CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES MEET AND ORGANIZE

Next Move Up to Uncle Sam—Will Likely Withdraw Embassy Today or Monday—Many Places in the North Fall Into Hands of Constitutionalists—Huerta Sends Congratulations to Carranza

Mexico City, Nov. 15.—President Huerta was unable to bring his new Congress fully to life today. The Chamber of Deputies met and effected temporary organization but the Senate proved reactionary and the lack of a quorum prevented organization.

General Huerta and his friends, however, profess to believe the greater part of their work is done, because the newly-created lower House has formally and in their opinion legally met. The Senate, they think, can be induced to move into line by Monday, when Senators are summoned to meet again.

Long after the hour fixed for the Senate to convene the roll call show only 21 Senators present, nearly all of these being generals in the army. Twenty-nine are necessary for a quorum.

None of the Catholic Senators was present. This is understood to have been due to an agreement among them that the party should not participate in the Senatorial session. These Senators are regarded as influential and their refusal or failure to attend is regarded as indicative of the attitude of the church.

Congress Convenes.

Shortly before the convening of the Congress President Huerta summoned his cabinet ministers to the National Palace for a special session. No intimation of the purpose of the meeting was made public.

Regardless of rumors and notwithstanding the insistence of far-seeing friends General Huerta appeared more determined tonight than at any time during the past week to retain the Presidency and carry out his plans of installing the Congress.

Huerta reiterated today that he continued at the head of the Mexican government and the fact that he took no step towards preventing the inauguration of the new Congress as demanded by the United States was construed at the embassy and the legations as indicative of what may be expected in the future. Representatives from the majority of the foreign governments appeared to believe that General Huerta had brought affairs to such a point that drastic action may be necessitated.

"Oh, I shall not quit," said General Huerta tonight. "I shall continue just as I have been doing to put forth my best efforts to bring about the pacification of the country and thus fulfill the promise I made on taking office."

It was suggested to the President that conditions might become such that foreigners such as Americans would be in imminent danger.

General Huerta calmly agreed that this might be so but added: "In that case I shall do all I can to protect them."

"True, the rabble of the city might rise but I would not hesitate to apply the severest methods in my power to restore order and punish the guilty."

Chaotic Conditions.

The meeting of the new House of Deputies reflected the chaotic conditions brought about by the dissolution o fthe old Congress. Minister of Justice Aldape, was expected to officiate at the opening but opposition developed and Gonzalo Zuniga, Senor Albape's secretary and himself a Deputy, appeared in his stead. Nominally for a few minutes he presided but there was little of parliamentary form observed in what followed. One group called for one man and another group for another man to act as chairman.

In vain Senor Zuniga called upon deputies for order, insisting that they observe legal procedure.

"Don't talk to us of law," cried Salvadore Diaz Miron, editor of Imparcial and an ardent supporter of Huerta "What have we to do with law? We are greater than the law. The country is in a delecate condition and it is our duty to proceed in the most expeditious manner."

The controversy was ended by the appointment without balloting of Enrique Paz, as president of the body to serve until the formal inauguration November 20th.

Secretaries and a committee to examine credentials then were appointed and the session adjourned at 6 o'clock.

The roll of deputies included all members of President Huerta's staff, the chief aid of the minister of war, the private secretary of the President, the private secretary of the minister of war, a large number of men more or less closely identified with other government officials and many well known detectives who had been employed in the capital.

No disorders attended the preliminary session of the deputies. No troops were to be seen in the streets, nor were any stationed in the building. There were few spectators but policemen and "plainclothesmen" always were in evidence.

No Interest Shown.

Except for the fact that the Washington administration had said the Congress must not meet the action of the chamber ordinarily would have aroused no interest. Attention centers only on the formal opening.

Early today the seriousness of the situation appeared to be realized both by officials at the palace and by the people in the streets. If a time limit was fixed by Washington, in which Huerta had to make concessions, this was not known to the public and outwardly at least, the situation had not changed from what it was yesterday.

Certain of General Huerta's friends, with due circumspection, continued their efforts to persuade him to give in, but there was another group, which was more open in its advice. These men urged the President not to concede to any demands.

The cabinet was by no means agreed upon the course which General Huerta should follow. Those who favored his yielding are not too insistent upon their point of view, as the Provisional President has established a reputation for not receiving in the most friendly spirit advice contrary to his own opinion.

Rumors that he intended to prevent Congress from meeting and even that he was willing to resign immediately without specifying who should be his successor were current all day, but equally current were rumors of a opposite character.

No More Negotiations.

Extreme doubt, according to well-informed persons, was cast upon any renewal of negotiations between Mexico and the United States by the issuance of the following statement by the National Palace today:

"In view of Venustiano Carranza's repudiation of any form of mediation by or alliance with the United States, Provisional Huerta can do no less than join him in his expression of patriotic sentiment and maintain unaltered his dignified attitude toward Washington."

At the National Palace the attitude of the United States is characterrized as indicative of a tafficking people and today many Mexicans reverted to their traditional declaration that any interference in their affairs by a foreign government would be met by the United Mexican people.

Rumors heard yesterday and circulated with additional persistency today are to the effect that the American embassy will be withdrawn on Monday or earlier. Mr. Lind is credited with the authorship of these rumors and with the additional statement that marines are to be landed as a protest against President Huerta's defiance of of the Washington government. In that event it is probable that Vera Cruz will be evacuated by the Federals.

It is reported here that the commander at Vera Cruz has been instructed, in such an event, to make no opposition but to withdraw his force to some point nearer the capital and there await instructions.

Information Meagre.

Washington, November 15.—While official information from Mexico City was meagre, the Washington government tonight maintained its confidence that Provisional President Huerta soon would be elminated from the situation.

The steady pressure through diplomatic channels, the financial blockade and the practical certainty that the embargo on arms will be lifted unless Huerta yields, are expected to force retirement of the Provisional President. How soon this would occur, no official would predict.

Neither at the White House, nor at the State Department was there any disposition to regard seriously the statement issued today from the National Palace at Mexico City declaring that "in view of Venustiano Carranza's repudiation of any form of mediation by, or alliance with, the United States, Provisional President Huerta can do no less than join him in his expression of patriotic sentiment and maintain unaltered his dignified attitude toward Washington."

While on the surface this statement gave the impression that the United States had met with a rebuff in the diplomatic camps of both Mexican factions, administration officials conversant with details of the inner situation construed it merely as an attempt to meet temporarily the arguments of expediency being urged upon Huerta by close friends.

The declaration, first from Carranza, that he would not accept mediation by the United States and reiterated by Huerta, caused no concern here, for the Washington government maintains it never has offered to mediate. Carranza's utterance was not misunderstood by the Washington government for, inasmuch as he had appealed to the United States to lift the embargo on arms and a special envoy had gone to his headquarters to discuss the situation, the necessity of showing his followers that he does not intend to surrender the sovereignty of his country by negotiation with any foreign government was taken into full consideration here.

Reason for Insistence.

The American government likewise realizes that Cararnza will not enter into any compromise arrangements or negotiations with Huerta or any of the group surrounding him. For this reason chiefly has President Wilson insisted throughout on the elimination of the Huerta coterie as a necessary first step to peace and he always has contended too that the Mexicans must compose the situation themselves.

Huerta's expression on the heels of Carranza's utterance was regarded by high officials here, in fact, as an effort to show no less patriotism than the Constitutionalist chief at this time.

The Washington government does not construe its activities in the situation as included in the terms "interference" or "mediation." The Washington view point is that the United States has the right to say exactly on what condition it will recognize any government. It has sought to emphasize through its representatives that under no conditions would Huerta or any one of the group surrounding him be recognized and has announced also that he will not recognize the legality of any acts of the Mexican Congress which was scheduled to convene today. By making its position similarly clear to other foreign governments, the United States has secured the acquiescence in its views of every great power, without exception.

As to the Constitutionalists, the United States also has refrained from direct interference, according to the Washington view, for the parleys between William Bayard Hale and General Carranza have been confined, it is understood, to enquiries as to what protection to foreigners and their property could be expected, not only if the embargo on arms were lifted, but in the event that the Carranza element should obtain control of the Mexico City government.

If the nearest neighbor to Mexico, this government feels that it might be called upon by other Nations to furnish information about the Southern Republic.

News of the activities of the Huerta cabinet and the new Mexican Congress were awaited with interest by official Washington tonight.

Taken Six Times.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 15.—For the sixth time in the last three years, Ciudad Juarez changed governments when 2,000 rebels, led by General Pancho Villa, attacked and captured the town between 2:30 and 5 o'clock this morning. Taken by surprise the Federal garrison of about 400 men put up a weak resistance. Valla's troops even reached the center of the town before a shot was fired.

The rebels lost five men, the Federal dead is estimated at 30 and four or five non-combatants were killed Among them was Charles Seggerson, El Paso automobile driver, who was on the main street in Juarez in his automobile.

"No looting," was the order given by Villa to his men after the town had surrendered, and not a single case of theft has been reported. Guards were placed at downtown stores with orders to shoot the first man who attempted to loot.

The rebels captured 125 Federal prisoners, 95,000 rounds of ammunition, two field pieces and two machine guns, in addition to an important border port of entry and a military strategic point.

General Francisco Castro, commander of the Juarez garrison, is among the missing. It is the general opinion that he escaped.

El Paso police this afternoon thought they had captured General Castro here but the prisoner proved to be a colonel from the Juarez garrison.

Bullets Fall in El Paso.

Bullets fell thick in El Paso during the attack and Chester L. Burnett, a messenger boy, was shot through the hand. All El Paso was aroused by the firing and the streets were soon filled with people. Miraculously no others were struck.

United States troops took station near the international boundary and held the Americans away from the danger zone as much as possible. Order was quickly restored in Juarez after the capitulation and this afternoon at 2 o'clock street car service between El Paso and Juarez was resumed and Americans began to flock to the Mexican city. Little damage was done in Juarez, as the rebels had no canon.

Villa assured Mayor C. E. Kelly, of El Paso, that all Americans would receive protection.

Mayor Kelly, after a conference with the Constitutional commander, ordered the bridges opened and traffic between the towns was resumed.

Villa expressed regret that an American had been killed and declared that if the Federals came from Chihuahua to attempt to etake Juarez he would meet them south of the town and prevent a battle that would endanger Americans in El Paso. He said he had destroyed the railroad to Chihuihua.

Dr. Frank W. Lynch, city physician of El Paso, said he had seen the body of Colonel Enrique Portilla in the streets of Juarez this afternoon. Portillo was a Federal commander and was made a prisoner. Captain Torres, another Federal commander, was reported executed at noon today.

Will Recognize No One.

Nogales, November 15.—General Venusdano Carranza will not consider any means of accomplishing peace in Mexico not predicated on the absolute elimination of Huerta. The Constitutionalists political and military leader today issued the following announcement: "We will recognize no-

CHARGE GAG RULE WAS BEING USED

Daughters of Confederacy Elect Officers and Rush Through to Adjourn.

CONFUSION IN CONVENTION

Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi, Elected President General for the Following Year—Last Hours Enlivened by Debate.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—In sessions enlivened by acrimonious debate and charges that "gag rule" was being invoked, the Daughters of the Confederacy elected officers today and hurried through much routine work in time to adjourn tonight. Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, of Brandon, Miss., was elected president general by a unanimous vote after Mrs. Nathan D. Ella, of Virginia, had withdrawn. Charges that a caucus pledge of the Louisiana delegation had been broken during the re-election of Mrs. E. C. Schnabel, of Louisiana, as recording secretary general, brought confusion in the convention.

After it had been voted to have the secretary cast the entire convention vote for Mrs. Schnabel, a member of the Louisiana delegation said the delegation was not aware what was going on and that the delegation had 22 votes against Mrs. Schnabel. When the election was declared closed and no explanations allowed the "gag rule" charge was made. Finally, however, one of the delegates was allowed to make a statement of her side of the case.

Other officers elected were:

Honorary President General—Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas.

First Vice President—Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama.

Second Vice President—Mrs. W. T. Culberson, of Oklahoma.

Third Vice President—Mrs. I. W. Faison, of North Carolina.

Treasurer General—Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia.

Register General—Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, of Arkansas.

Historian General—Mrs. Mildred Rutherford, of Georgia.

Mrs. I. W. Faison was re-elected third vice president with no opposition and Mrs. F. M. Williams was elected recording secretary by a large majority today. Mrs. Marshall Williams, with the retiring and newly-elected president generals of the organization, were given an automobile ride about the city this afternoon. Mrs. Faison Pierce, of Warsaw, served on the credentials committee. Miss Jessie Smith received conspicuous attention. Mrs. Creasy, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Little, of Wadesboro, were mentioned for important offices.

MAY ACCEPT CUBANS.

Islanders League May Join National Arbitration Board.

Columbus, O., Nov. 15.—The National Board of Arbitration of Minor Baseball Leagues today referred to Secretary Farrell for further investigation, the application of the Cuban League for membership in the National Association. It may be granted, but use of negro players on teams probably will cause its rejection.

Among the decisions announced by the board were the following: Claims allowed, players against Bristol, Tenn. Claims disallowed, Thomas against Norfolk, Va.

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—Rear Admiral William Caperton today succeeded Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight as commander of the Atlantic reserve fleet at the Philadelphia navy yard. Admiral Knight goes to Newport, R. I., where he becomes president of the war college and commander of the navy yard.

SECRETARY OF WAR MAKES AN ADDRESS

Declares American People Do Not Regard Army In Proper Attitude.

COMPOSED OF MEN OF SENSE

Takes Two to Make Peace and Situated as America is She Could Not Afford to be Without a Standing Army.

New York, Nov. 15.Secretary of War Garrison declared at a dinner given in his honor at the Lotus Club tonight, that the people of the United States as a whole did not regard the army in the proper attitude.

"For one thing," said he, "I think the people fail to discriminate between their absolute hatred of bloodshed and war and the function of the army in respect thereto. For the fireman, physician, engineer and for the clergyman none of us has words other than of praise and of encouragement. And yet, for the soldier, whose very presence is a protection against others attempting to use force and whose efforts in our behalf where force is used against us are essential to our defense, the people have either a negligent or very often one of disapproval. I cannot on any reasonable ground account for this.

"If it were true that the officers and men of the army are swaggering bullies, seeking to engage in war for war's sake, there would be reason for this public attitude. But exactly the contrary is the case. The army, both officers and men, never was of higher tone than today, nor as high, in my opinion.

"No sane man possibly can think that a nation situated as is the United States with respect to the world, could do without an army. We all believe that the tendency of the American government is toward righteousness; that we have no desire for aggrandizement for oppression or for taking away from any one or any nation that rightfully belongs to it. But we also know that it takes two to keep the peace and we cannot safeguard the interests of our people without the force constantly ready to secure it."

INVESTIGATE WRECK.

Alabama Legislature to Find Cause for Recent Disaster.

Clayton, Ala., Nov. 15.—Efforts will be made to have the grand jury investigate last Thursday's wreck on the Central of Georgia three miles from Clayton in which a number of persons were killed and many more injured, according to a statement issued tonight by a committee of prominent citizens here.

Officials of the Central of Georgia, who have been conducting a searching inquiry, tonight reiterated their conviction that the wreck was caused by a broken rail. They scouted the suggestion that the accident was due to alleged faulty construction in the roadbed.

Lists of the dead, as issued by the railroad officials, are widely at variance with those compiled from other sources. An official statement by the road places the total deaths at ten.

Manila, Nov. 15.—The naval collier Ajax went aground today on a reef at Guam. The cruiser Galveston was ordered from here to assist in getting her off.

Sailors Received By Pope at Rome

Rome, November 15.—The Pope today received at the vatican the officers and sailors of the United States warships now visiting European ports. The officers were in civilian clothes as their visit to the Pope was in their private capacity. The sailors were in uniform.

The party was conducted by Monsignor Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American College in Rome; Chaplain William H. Raney, of the battleship Utah, and Chaplain Curtis H. Dickins, of the battleship Florida. Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, Cameron McR. Winslow and Frank E. Beatty and Captain William J. Maxwell were introduced by Monsignor Kennedy.

As they proceeded into the Pope's private library the Swiss and the Noble Guards rendered military honors. The Pope was cordial and cheerful. He expressed briefly his great satisfaction at being able to greet the American sailors. The Pope requested the officers to be seated next to his chairr and afte a lengthy conservation proceeded in company with the three rear admirals and the captain to the adjoining hall, where he spoke a few words to each of the officers gathered there. He then gave apostolic benediction to the officers and sailors.

After the papal audience the rear admirals and other officers were received by Cardinal De Pal, papal secretary of State.

Naples, November 15.—Three hundred American blue jackets ascended Mount Vesuvius last night in spite of the adverse weather. They carried torches with them to light the way.

ONLY TWO TRAINS WERE OPERATED

Southern Pacific as Completely Tied Up as on First Day of Strike.

STRIKERS IN CONFERENCE

Officials of the Company Hope to Have Trains in Operation Within Next Few Days—Unions on Other Lines Confer.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 15.—The hope of railroad officials to operate more trains today was realized only in part on the Sunset Central lines where approximately 2,500 men are on strike. But two transcontinental trains, one East and the other West, were moved. No attempt was made to move any freight.

The strikers devoted the day to conferences, principally with the chairmen of committees representing unions on connecting railroad lines, who sought to learn the attitude they should adopt in handling traffic delivered to them from those lines where the strike is in force. It is said a "hands off" policy was agreed upon.

J. A. Fahrson, vice president of the Trainmen's Union, declared the tie-up as complete as it was the first day of the strike.

Vice President William Clark, of the Order of Railway Conductors of Chicago, and T. A. Gray, also a vice president of the Conductors of Roanoke, Va., will arrive in Houston tomorrow to assist the other officers of the order in handling the strike.

STILL LOOK FOR DEAD.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 15.—One of the strangest mysteries in connection with the destruction of vessels and men on the Great Lakes by last Sunday's storm was solved this afternoon when William Baker, a diver, identified the overturned vessel in Lake Huron, 13 miles northeast of this port, as hte Charles S. Price, of Cleveland.

The Price, a steamer 504 feet long, has been lying in the lake ever since the storm with only a few feet of the bottom of her bow above water. She is said to have carried a crew of 28. All of them must have been lost. It is still thought that the wrecking of the Price and the Regina must have been in the same locality. The diver, however, found no evidence of any other submerged vessel beside the Price.

Ship owners and anxious relatives of the sailors of the eight boats which went down in Lake Huron in the storm began today another search for frozen bodies which are being tossed up almost hourly on the Canadian shore. The establishment of the identity of the ship makes it certain that the boats lost in the storm on Lake Huron were the John A. McGean, Charles S. Price, James S. Carruthers, Regina, Wexford, Argus, Hydrus and Isaac M. Scott, causing a death toll of approximately 195.

Besides this total the storm took in tae neighborhood of 61 lives on Lake Superior, Lake Michigan and Lake Erie.

Montreal, November 15. — The steamer Collier Bridgeport, sailing from Sydney, Cape Breton, with a crew of 42 and a cargo of 10,000 tons of coal, has been lost and probably all on boaru have perished, according to official announcement today by the Dominion Coal Company, which chartered vessel.

Wreckage grounded on the shore of Bird Rock Island in the St. Lawrence river, told the story of the tragedy.

Brown, Jenkins & Company, of London, are the owners.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 15.—Twenty-two members of the Savannah fire department were overcome by smoke and heat today while fighting fire in the hold of the British steamship Ulidia. Tonight the flames had practically been extinguished. A survey will be necessary before the damage can be estimated accurately.

The fire was in a cargo of cotton bales loaded here for shipment to Hamburg. The Ulidia left Savannah yesterday afternoon and was well out to sea when it was discovered early that evening that cotton in the middle hold was on fire. Capt. McClerehan turned back and made for this port with all speed, arriving early this morning.

The firemen battled with the flames all day. The cotton burned so stubbornly the firemen were compelled to remain on the job until late this evening for hours after the blaze was really under control.

The Ulidia is owned by Joseph Fisher & Sons, of Newry, Ireland, and is valued at $600,000.

WANT NEW LAW.

Urge Congress to Enact Measure Favoring Pure Drugs.

Washington, November 15.—A conference between State Pure Food Commissioners and officials of the Department of Agriculture here today decided that the Federal pure food law was inadequate, that it should be repealed and another statute substituttd immediately. The chief point of attack was the section which permits the use of a guarantee label by manufacturers. This was declared misleading to the public in that it made it appear that the products were guaranteed by the government.

After the discussion a committee of five was appointed to urge Congress to pass a new measure and also to provide a law to fix standards for all foods and drugs.

STEAMER BALMES BURNING AT SEA

One Hundred and Three Passengers of Spanish Steamship are Rescued

CREW REMAIN ON VESSEL

Meagre Wireless Dispatches Tell of Latest Ocean Disaster—Crew Will Try to Bring Burning Ship Into Port.

New York, November 16.—Meagre wireless dispatches received today told of the rescue at sea of 103 passengers from the burning Spanish steamship Balmes, by the Cunard liner Pannonia. Though fire was still raging late today, the Balmes' crew of 55 were presumably sticking by the vessel, which convoyed by the Pannonia, was making for Bermuda, which they should reach some time Monday.

The Pannonia's commander reported that he had reacned the side of the stricken vessel on the evening of November 13th and remained with her all night. By daylight all the passengers had been safely transferred. To reach her the Pannonia had to steam 180 miles. The Balmes had signaled by wireless "Am on fire. Require assistance."

The Balmes is a comparatively small vessel of Spanish ownership and is rater as a freighter. The Pannonia is one of the slower boats of the Cunard Line.

The Balmes' passengers are to be brought to New York. The Cunard Line officers received another message tonight from Capt. Caper, of the Pannonia, saying he expected the two vessels would reach Bermuda about 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

WILMINGTON LAD CHARGED.

Archie King Held for Manslaughter in Jacksonville, Fla.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 15.—In connection with the killing of B. B. McWhite, Jr., a white lad, Thursday night, Archie King, 16 years old, of 1203 West Adams street, was yesterday morning charged with manslaughter at a preliminary hearing before Justice Charles D. Abbott, and his bond placed at $1,000.

Earle Williams was charged with being an accessory in the killing of young McWhite, and his bond was also fixed at $1,000. The friends of the King family provided the bond money for King and the boy was released from jail. No bond was furnished for the Williams boy, and he is still held in jail.

The body of B. B. McWhite, Jr., left this city last night for Conway, S. C., in charge of John R. Register, the young man who was with McWhite when he was killed. The body will be received today by McWhite's parents, who reside in Conway, S. C., according to a telegram received here yesterday from them by Marcus Conant, funeral director.

Fully two hours were taken up in securing testimony in relation to the case before Justice Abbott yesterday morning. The evidence was similar and corroborated with the story told to a Times-Union representative by King when interviewed at the city jail shortly after he was arrested.

King declared that McWhite was striking at him with an iron axle, and in the struggle at close quarters, McWhite was cut. King stated that he did not know that McWhite was cut seriously until he learned that he was dead.

It is said that the hearing failed to reveal premeditated intent to kill, and the entire affair is looked upon as a deplorable boyish encounter.

BEVERIDGE AT NEW ORLEANS.

Sounds Key Note of First Progressive Rally Since Election.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.—Arguing that the South's strict adherence to one political party kept her from her rightful place in the nation's activities, former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge sounded the keynote here tonight at the first Progressive rally in the South since the last Presidential election. He said:

"The call of patriotism of today is for a new party which will enable the South to have two parties and, thus, to come into its own. The Progressive party is here to answer that call."

Mr. Beveridge said until the Progressive party was formed Southerners could hardly be blamed for voting the Democratic ticket as to do otherwise would be disregarding their self respect. But because of such conditions, he said, "the South itself is in the hands of professional politicians who run political machines that really rule the Southern people.

"If Southern men hesitate for fear the Progressive party will unite with the Republicans, the action of the Progressive National committee only last week to begin right now for next year's battle pledges you your honor that there will be no merger, no compromise, no amalgamation of any kind with any other party whatever."

NEWS FROM THE GRIDIRON

Georgetown Defeats Virginia, Auburn Pours Molten Lead Down Vanderbilt, While Yale and Princeton Draw.

Washington, Nov. 15.—By scoring a safety in the last minute of play Georgetown University nosed out a victory over the University of Virginia today in their annual football game, the score being 8 to 7.

Rain, which fell continuously throughout the tense struggle, turned the field into a mud puddle and good football was out of the question.

Though Virginia lost, Georgetown was outplayed and out-generalled on straight football and but for a referree's decision penalizing Virginia to within one yard of her goal line after a 25-yard gain on a quarterback run, the result would have been reversed.

In the last period when the safety was scored, Georgetown had been penalized half the distance to its goal line for rough play after working the ball to Virginia's 30-yard line. Costello was forced to kick and Gooch ran the ball back 15 yards. On the next formation he swung around Georgetown's right end for 20 yards, but one of the Virginians was caught holding and her victory suddenly was turned into defeat. A penalty of 20 yards brought the ball back to Virginia's one-yard line and Landes dropped back to punt from behind his goal. The pass was poor, dropping at his feet, and owing to the condition of the field he slipped and fell on the ball. A Georgetown man pounde on him and the locals thereby gained the two points that brought victory.

Virginia out-rushed Georgetown and several times threatened to score, but the wet field and slippery ball handicapped them and they met defeat for the first time this season. The score: Georgetown 8; Virginia 7.

The line-up:

Georgetown		Virginia
Donnelly	LE	White
Moriarity	LT	Maiden
Gurry	LG	Carter
Kelley	C	Jett
Barron	RG	Redus
Petritz	RT	Woolfolk
Bergin	RE	Gillett
Costello	QB	Gooch
Fury	LH	Randolph
Murray	RH	Ray
Dunn	FB	Lanues

Georgetown scoring: Touchdown, Murray; safety, Moriarity.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—The Harvard football machine, readjusted in preparation for the game with Yale, was tried out against Brown today and found in fine working order. The Crimson totalled 37 points, holding Brown scoreless.

Harvard practically brought three elevens into play and the first string players, Logan, O'Brien and Trumbull who went to New Haven with Coach Haughton to watch Yale in action against Princeton, were not missed.

The first Crimson team played only through the first two periods, making 17 points on touchdowns and Brickley's goal from placement at 38 yards.

The Crimsons' scoring ambitions seemed increased rather than diminished, with the appearance of substitutes. A fumble by Gardner, Brown's quarter back, on his 28-yard line was recovered by Coolidge and the Harvard substitute caried the ball to the goal.

Harvard's last score was a sensational one. Mills, substitute guard, caught the ball after fumbling it on a Brown kick-off, and raced 82 yards to the goal. Brown was never dangerous.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 15.—Using the same terrific line attack that crushed Syracuse, the football eleven of the University of Michigan today defeated Pennsylvania 13 to 0. At no time was Pennsylvania dangerous.

Pennsylvania's attack was as erratic as her defense was mediocre. At wide intervals one of Brooke's men skirted a Michigan end for six or seven yards. Attempts to pierce Michigan's line was uniformly successful. Neither team gained substantially on forward pass plays. It was a distinct victory for old fashioned, sledge hammer football.

Minneapolis, Nov. 15—Premier football honors of the Western inter-collegiate conference rest with the University of Chicago by virtue of its 13 to 3 victory over the University of Minnesota here this afternoon.

Nearly 25,000 spectatorsc saw the Chicago eleven break down Minnesota's defense in the first period. For the next two quarters neither team scored. In the fourth period, two Chicago forward passes brought the ball to Minnesota's three-yard line and Capt. Norgren scored the second touchdown. A little later Shaughnessy broke up the Chicago defense and carried the ball over for the only Minnesota score.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 15.—Rising proenix-like from the ashes of a disheartening preliminary season, the Yale football team forced Princeton, the ten to seven favorite, to a tie score of 3 to 3 in their annual contest here this afternoon. Guernsey for Yale kicked a field goal in the second period of play and Capt. "Hobey" Baker tied the score for Princeton with a similar but more spectacular feat in the third quarter.

The score, however, does not show the marked superiority of the Blue. Player for player and team against team, the Blue was better than the Orange and Black in both offensive and defensive play. Yale adherents tonight are claiming that the tie score represents a moral victory; and it would have turned into an actual victory but for more generalship and judgment in critical periods.

The game early developed into a punting duel with Law, of Princeton pitted against Knowles, for Yale. During the first period the ball was kept sailing back and forth with but little advantage one way or the other.

In the second quarter Yale started a rushing game which carried the ball to the Tigers' 22-yard line. Beyond this point the Eli eleven could not advance; and Guernsey, the Yale drop kicker, was called in to replace Knowles. Standing on Princeton's 31-yard line, he drove the ball over the bar and the Yale supporters sent up a prolonged cheer. They failed to consider the ability of Capt. Baker as a goal kicker, however, and in the third period the Princeton leader saved his team from defeat by duplicating under more difficult conditions, the field goal scored by Guernsey. Princeton, using a mixture of old and new football advanced to Yale's 35-yard line. There the Blue forwards checked the Tiger rushes and Capt. Baker, standing 42 yards from the Yale goal posts, kicked the ball over the bar for the three points needed to even the score. It was a great kick and the name of the 1913 Princeton captain will go down in football history with those of Alex Moffat, Johnny Baird, John DeWitt and other famous field goal kickers who scored for the Orange and Black in the years of early football.

It is well, perhaps, that such should be the case, for the Princeton team, as a whole, failed to gain any lasting glory. Hailed as one of the best elevens developed on the Tiger field in recent years, it was outplayed in almost every department of the game.

By rushing Yale gained 139 yards in 44 plays to Princeton's 37 in 22 efforts. Three first downs were scored against the Tigers' solitary gain in this respect. Thirty-five kicks netted 1,214 yards against 1,188 yards for Princeton in 33 kicks. Yale regained 180 yards by running back Law's punts, while Princeton picked up but 143 yards in a similar manner.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 15.—For the first time in 20 years Auburn today snatched a victory from Vanderbilt University, defeating the McGugin machine 14 to 6. A crowd estimated at 10,000 persons cheered the opposing teams from start to finish.

Both teams played fiercely throughout. Battering and plunging the Auburn back field bombarded the Vanderbilt line persistently. Most of the ground gaining, however, resulted from broken field dashes behind an almost impregnable interference.

Vanderbilt's offensive play was spirited and dashing. Boensch, the Commodores' swift quarter, spurted frequently through the Auburn tackles and ends for substantial gains.

Auburn was first to cross the goal line. The ball had see-sawed for the greater part of the first quarter. Auburn's quick recovery of a Vanderbilt fumble in the center of the field led to the first touchdown. Newell and Hart bored through to Vanderbilt's 24-yard line. The Vanderbilt line then was penalized 15 yards for holding. This gave the ball to Auburn on Vanderbilt's nine-yard line. After two smashes for short gains, Hart, Auburn's right half back, drilled through for a touchdown.

Vanderbilt's only score was made in the second quarter on a brilliant forward pass. Standing on Auburn's 40-yard line Turner tossed the ball over his shoulder to Sikes, who shot it to Boensch, speeding 15 yards ahead. He did not stop until he had crossed the goal line.

The two teams battled grimly during the third quarter, neither scoring. In the last quarter Auburn started a headlong rush for short but consistent gains, which finally netted a touchdown.

Atlanta, Nov. 15.—Georgia today played Georgia Tech off its feet in the first quarter of a hard fought football game, and thereby won 14 to 0. By virtue of the victory Georgia won the right to meet Auburn here Saturday for the S. I. A. A. championship.

Georgia's first score came as a result of a Tech misplay. In the first scrimmage, Thomasson, Tech's full back, fumbled and a Georgia player fell on the ball. Sledge-hammer bucks by McWhorter and Crump forced the ball steadily down the field until Crump went through for a touchdown. After an interchange of kicks, Georgia resumed its merciless pounding of the Yellow Jacket line, and before the quarter ended Crump for the second time crossed the goal line.

From this point the Tech eleven braced and stubbornly contested every inch of ground. Time and again Georgia's fast backs carried the ball to within striking distance of the goal, only to find the Yellow Jacket line impregnable at the last. Tech tried desperately but vainly to score. Both elevens resorted to numerous trick plays, few of which netted material gains.

The game was played on a dry, fast field under weather conditions that were ideal from the viewpoint of the immense crowd.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 15.—North Carolina defeated Wake Forest here today 29 to 0. The Wake Forest line was unable to resist the onslaught of the heavier Carolinians. Taylor for North Carolina easily was the star of the contest. A number of football enthusiasts from Charlottesville, Va., attended the game in order to form an idea of what to expect in the Virginia-North Carolina Thanksgiving battle.

New York, Nov. 15.—The Dartmouth football team was easily beaten this afternoon by the Carlisle Indians by 35 to 10. All Carlisle's points were due to straight, hard football. Dartmouth scored on a goal from the field and a forward pass. The Indians made five touchdowns after they had battered the opposing line into helplessness. Most of their gains came from plunges through guard and tackle.

Annapolis, Nov. 15.—Pennsylvania State held Navy to a 10 to 0 victory here today. The Midshipmen when met by real opposition, did not show as well as it was hoped they would.

By line bucking Navy shoved Fullback Harrison across for a touchdown in the first period. Brown scored a placement goal in the second period. In the fourth period the visitors five times held for downs inside their own one-yard line.

Pittsburg, Nov. 15.—Playing whirlwind football, Washington and Jefferson today defeated the University of Pittsburg 19 to 6. Washington and Jefferson had previously held Yale to a 0 to 0 score, while the local university had defeated both Cornell and Carlisle.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 15.—Carolina defeated Wake Forest here today 29 to 0. The weather was ideal and the field in splendid condition for the game. Carolina confined playing for the most part to line drives, and the Wake Forest line could not stand up against the sturdy assaults made against it.

Wake Forest received the kick-off and fumbled, but recovered the ball at the 30-yarr line. Wake Forest failing to make requiret gains, the ball went oves and Tayloe carried it across the line for a touchdown, Tanby made the goal kick good. At no time until the last minute of play was Carolina in danger of being scored upon. At the last minute, however, Daniels, for Wake Forest, got past the Carolina line and made a run of about 40 yards before he was caught and thrown. Carolina took out a number of the strongest men after the game had been tied hp and put in substitutes, some of whom showed up well. Tayloe made the most gains for Carolina. He played a clean, fast and peppery game throughout and scored three of Carolina's four touchdowns. Forward passes were worked rarely by either side and only one was made good.

HIGH SCHOOL AGAIN VICTOR

Wilmington Football Team Wins Fifth Consecutive Game, Defeating Marion by Score of 46 to 0. Large Attendance.

The Wilmington High School football team won its fifth consecutive game for the season by defeating the Marion, S. C., High School boys by a score of 46 to 0 at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon. One of the Marion team had the misfortune to fracture his collar bone, this being the second time for the season he has had it broken, it is stated. There was a large attendance at the game, the estimated number of spectators being 1,500.

The Marion team showed good material but was placed under the disadvantage of having played a hard game with the Darlington High School team on Friday when they defeated Darlington by a score of 47 to 0. The Wilmington boys were in fine trim, and had little difficulty in carrying things their own way.

The star players for the Marion team were Snipes, Porter, Williams and McMillan and for Wilmington Hashagen, Hicks and Thompson. The Marion team as a whole was heavier than Wilmington, but the greater skill of the home team more than made up for what they lacked in size.

The first touchdown for Wilmington was made in the first quarter by Wagner, following Hashagen's 40-yard run to the three yard line. Marion kicked to Wilmington and the ball was returned to the center of the field by Hall. Wagner took it across after Hashagen's long run and Thompson's line plunge, but failed at goal. Marion again kicked to Wilmington and Hashagen returned it to 25-yard line. Marion intercepted forward pass at her 12-yard line and made 15 yards on a fumble.

At the beginning of the second quarter the ball was in the centre of the field in Marion's possession. Marion punted the ball to the 30-yard line. Marion kicked to Wilmington and Thompson fumbled the ball which Marion recovered on the 40-yard line and forwarded pass for 10 yards. Wilmington was penalized 10 yards, leaving ball at 20-yard line. Wilmington was again penalized five yards, and half closed with ball on Wilmington's 10-yard line.

Beginning the second half Wilmington kicked the ball to Marion, who punted ball to Hall at Wilmington's 35-yard line. On forward pass to Thompson, ball was carried 60 yards to 15-yard line, Hashagen fumbled ball on Marion's 10-yard line. Wilmington intercepted forward pass on 40-yard line. On fake kick for Marion Wagner ran 15 yards to five-yard line, Hashagen carried ball over, Wagner kicking goal. Marion kicked ball to Wagner who returned it 15 yards. Marion intercepted forward pass on her 40-yard line.

The last quarter began with a forward pass to Wilmington's 45-yard line, and Marion was held for downs on Wilmington's 15-yard line. Wagner ran 25 yards and made a forward pass to I. Silverman for 15 yards. Thompson carried ball eight yards for touchdown and Wagner kicked goal. Marion kicked ball to Wilmington and on a forward pass Grant ran 50 yards for touchdown, Wagner kicking goal. Marion kicked ball to Hashagen who returned ball 30 yards and a forward pass to Thompson put ball on 10-yard line. Hall carried ball eight yards and Wagner kicked goal. Marion kicked ball to Wagner and the game closed with ball in middle of field.

THE GENTLEMAN FROM MISSOURI IN THE CITY.

The typical man from Missouri was in the city last week. He came to this section to investigate the climate, soil, health, moral, educational and social conditions, for the purpose of removing his family and locating here if he found all the conditions favorable. After a full investigation he reported himself as being delighted.

The next question with him was as to whether it would be cheaper to sell his furniture and household goods in Missouri and buy here, or ship them. He went the rounds, took nothing for granted, but had to be shown. After the most careful and searching investigation, he bought everything from the old reliable Wilmington Furniture Co., at Second and Princess streets.

He would have nothing but Berestein three-piece beds, Ostermoor mattresses, a McDougall kitchen cabinet, two Englander couch beds, a good Novelty range, rugs, carpets, chairs, rockers, Haviland dinner set, blankets, shades, lace curtains, a Bloch's carriage for the baby—in fact, complete furnishings for a 10-room house. He frankly expressed his surprise at the splendid quality of goods and the very low price charged. He went away happy, to bring his family on, and instructed the furniture man to install the goods and add any small articles necessary to have the home comfortable when he returned with his family. He said this was an unusual confidence to place in a stranger, but that he had inquired diligently and learned from every source that the Wilmington Furniture Co., was absolutely reliable and trustworthy, had been a long time in business and enjoyed the implicit confidence of the community. His return with his family will receive proper notice in the news columns of this paper.

NEWS OF INTEREST IN ROBESON

Court Completes Term—Ban on Cheap Shows—Waverly Hotel Closed. Hunting Season—Other Robeson Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 15.—The two-weeks term of Superior Court closed yesterday evening, the court having been in session for eight days altogether. Several cases have been disposed of, but the civil docket is still heavily loaded. On December 1st a one week special term will convene the special term being followed on the 8th by a regular one-week term.

At the special term Judge Justice will preside, while Judge Lyon will hold the regular term. That will close the year's courts for the county. During the first half of 1914 Judge George Rountree, of Wilmington, will be on this circuit and law breakers who are so unfortunate as to appear before him had as well be prepared for something, as Judge Rountree knows the law and believes in enforcing it to the letter.

Mayor White certainly deserves the thanks of the community for the stand he has taken against these common ten cent tent shows. He truthfully says these attractions have become a nuisance and no more of them will be allowed to pitch their tents in Lumberton in the near future. An agent was here a week ago to arrange for the coming of a negro tent show to be here today, but the mayor said "no" and another town was sought.

Among the visitors here during the week have been Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, of Wilmington, Conductor W. L. Beery, of the Seaboard, and Conductor York, of the Coast Line. All these were here to attend court, but none of the cases in which they were interested was tried, all being continued the gubernatorial bee was humming around Mr. Bellamy, but he said it was too far off to say at this time what would happen, but his friends are of the opinion that he would not run from the nomination.

The Waverly Hotel is a thing of the past, having breathed its last today. It died hard, having held on to the last minute, charging a dollar for sheltering every weary traveler who fell under the roof at night. Mr. Anderson, who conducted the Waverly in its last days, has rented the rooms of the second floor of the building in which the Dixie Cafe is located, and will continue to room lodgers who will be expected to take their meals at the Cafe.

Mr. W. W. Willson, of Raleigh, State Deputy Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, spent two days here this week in the interest of the order. Mr. Willson succeeded Mr. J. D. Nutt, of Wilmington, who had that responsible position for several years but resigned several months ago to engage in other business.

Coburn's Minstrels will be the attraction at the local theatre next Saturday night, the 22nd. For several seasons Mr. Coburn has been delighting Lumberton minstrel lovers and will doubtless be greeted by a full house on this visit. On Monday night, the 24th, "The Shepherd of the Hills" will be the attraction, and if good weather prevails a large crowd may be expected to be present. Seats for Coburn will go on sale Thursday and for "The Shepherd of the Hills" on Friday. The top price for each show will be $1.

Mr. J. Ed Tyson, of Wishart's township, thinks he has about reached the stage of life when he should be entitled to have professor appear just ahead of his name. Prof. Tyson, for instance. He is a politician in no small degree, having often served as registrar of elections, been a justice of the peace, a good farmer, a grower of choice fruits, especially of grapes, a producer of fine wines, or rather used to be, a blacksmith, a road builder, and now as he approaches the three-score mark he has taken the profession of civil engineer. Mr. Tyson says he was at one time a member of the theatrical profession, having been a black face comedian. He says he is unlike most of the people, as he likes to see his name in the papers often. One thing is certain about him, for being right down clever and an all round good fellow he can't be excelled.

Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Whaley left for Charlotte yesterday where they expect to make their future home. Lumberton sincerely regrets to part with this young couple and wishes for them a prosperous career in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. French, Dr. W. A. McPhaul, Mr. George B. McLeod, and others will go to Charlotte Monday to witness the performance of the Ben Hur company in that city.

A party of hunters from Charlotte, traveling in automobiles, who had been down in Columbus county on a hunting trip, spent Thursday night here as they were returning home.

The happiest man in all this section last night was Superintendent M. G. McKenzie, of the Presbyterian Sunday School. He was severely pounded by the school in a body, the members going loaded with fruits of various kinds, cigars and anything that they thought would please him. It would be difficult to secure another superintendent that would be as popular as Mr. McKenzie.

The season for shooting birds in this county opened today and a few hunters had to try their luck. But they have been reading up on the bird law and know that it is a violation of the law to kill over 15 birds and cannot sell one at any price. Much of the land in this section is posted and hunting is dangerous on that account.

Messrs. J. L. Stephens, T. L. Johnson, M. F. Caldwell and J. L. Williamson, all of Lumberton, celebrated birthdays on Thursday of this week. Mr. Stephens led the crowd, having reached 34; Messrs. Johnson and Caldwell were second, each of them being 29, while Mr. Williamson climbed up to 24. Mr. Caldwell, however, is the only one of the four who was born and raised in Lumberton. None of them are bachelors.

Mr. A. Weinstein left tonight for the Northern markets to replenish his Fall and Winter stock of goods. While the season so far has been unusually dull, Mr. Weinstein says his business has been all he could wish. Readers of The Star will recall the fact that Mr. Weinstein a few Sundays ago, had an ad in its columns which brought such great results that he will try it again upon his return from the North.

The colored folks are kicking because they say the white folks are allowed to receive larger packages of whiskey by express than they can get. Chief Redfern says the packages for everybody must be cut down to the gallon and only five gallons per month, or 60 gallons per year must be handled by anyone, regardless of color. He thinks anyone ought to make out with a little over a gallon a week.

Five cars of cotton were received here one day this week from Georgia. Two mills of Lumberton use only the long staple, while the other two use "home made" cotton.

Miss Cora Page, saleslady for Mr. L. H. Caldwell, who has been confined at home for several days on account of sickness, was able to be out for a short time yesterday.

A day or two ago a native born lady of Lumberton, told us she was 50 years old the 5th month of this year, and had never been ten miles from town into the country. She said she had been out of the county several times, but always went on the train. Her fear of horses is so great that she can not be induced to ride behind one.

Mr. Jas. D. Proctor left yesterday evening for Graham, where Mrs. Proctor and little daughter were visiting relatives. They will return home Monday night.

An ordinance has been passed by the town authorities against any more fruit, candy or drink stands on Elm street during the holidays or at other times. Only side streets may be used and then the tax will be $1 per day or $5 per year.

WHAT WILL WILMINGTON DO?

Will Citizens Subscribe the Necessary Stock to Bring "Phillies" Here Is the Question—Answer Tomorrow.

Will Wilmington be the Spring headquarters of the Philadelphia National baseball club, about which there has been so much said and written ever since the "Phillies" and the Baltimore Orioles played here last Spring?

The answer to that question depends entirely upon the desire of the citizens of Wilmington and they have until tomorrow at noon to say the word.

One-half of the amount of the guarantee was secured yesterday after a hard day's work by the committee and the balance must be in sight by noon Monday or Wilmington will have lost her chance to get the "Phillies" to make their training ground here.

As stated in yesterday's Star at a mass meeting of citizens interested in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night it was decided to form a stock company, with 500 shares at $1, making a capitalization of $5,000. Col. Walker Taylor was named as the general chairman of the committee, the other members being Messrs. Chas. L. Dickinson, William Struthers, Jr., H. L. Fennell, John W. Blomme, Bert Kite, B. F. King, Jr., Chas. E. Loughlin.

The committee set to work yesterday and after a "strenuous canvass," as one of the members put it last night, one-half of the number of shares necessary were subscribed. Messrs. Struthers and Dickinson spent the entire afternoon canvassing and it is said that they alone secured 200 shares.

It will be necessary to secure 250 shares more in order to complete the capitalization of the company and assure the selection of Wilmington.

It is stated that a telegram was received from President Baker yesterday by one of those interested stating that Wilmington had been selected by the directors as the place for the training camp provided the city pays the hotel bill of the members of the team while here. This amount is to be paid back later as the proposition in full shows:

The company now forming is to guarantee the payment of the board of the players only; the "Phillies" agree to play 10 exhibition games in Wilmington with American and International League baseball teams, including the Philadelphia Athletics, the Baltimore Orioles, Boston Americans and possibly Brooklyn, besides as many other teams as the local management can arrange for; that the local company receive the "Phillies'" proportion of the gate receipts of exhibition games until the amount guaranteed for board has been reached, after which the local company is to receive 50 per cent. of the "Phillies'" proportion of the gate receipts.

At a meeting of a number of those interested last night the committee reported that only one-half of the amount necessary had been raised. It is now up to the citizens of the city to say whether they want the advertising and other benefits that would accrue to the city by having the "Phillies" train here. And they will have to act by 12 o'clock tomorrow. Members of the committee will continue their efforts until noon. If there are any who would like to subscribe and who are not approached by a member of the committee they are asked to call the place of business of either member of the committee, leave their name and state the amount of stock they will take.

Members of the committee are satisfied that the amount of the guarantee of the board bill will be more than realized from the exhibition games and they feel certain that those taking stock will do a little better than break even, besides being greatly benefitted indirectly through the advertising the town will receive by reason of the presence here of the team, and, furthermore, it will afford the lovers of the sport the opportunity to see some good ball games next Spring.

SITE FOR OIL PLANT.

Galena Signal Oil Company Buys Property on Smith's Creek.

Col. Geo. L. Morton, formerly of Wilmington, but now of Atlanta, has been here for several days on business in connection with the Galena-Signal Oil Company. While here he is making arrangements for greatly enlarging the business of the company in Wilmington. As stated in The Star some months ago this place is to be made of considerable more importance as a distributing point of the company. Mr. Morton has practically closed a deal for the purchase of 20 acres of land on the Castle Haynes road, just beyond Smith's Creek bridge fronting on the creek and almost touching the river, which will be used for the local plant of the company. The property is purchased from Mrs. James Howard and the price is about $6,000. It is understood that the deal will be closed tomorrow.

Fine Concert Last Night.

The famous Kneisel Quartette gave one of its superb concerts in Memorial Hall of St. Andrew's church last night, being the third attraction of the Lyceum Course of the Brotherhood of the church. The audience was large and the concert proved one of the most enjoyable it has been the pleasure of the subscribers to the course to attend. It is safe to say that none of the numbers will surpass this one. The audience showed its appreciation by frequent applause.

Attended Augusta Meeting.

Mr. Stuart R. Keyes returned to the city at midnight from Augusta, Ga., where he went to assist in the organization of the Augusta Association of Credit Men, a branch of the National Association of the same name. Mr. Keyes was one of the speakers at the banquet given by the newly formed organization at the Genesta Hotel Thursday night. He is secretary of the Wilmington Association of Credit Men.

THE RATE COMMISSION.

Governor Craig Will Name It Monday. Cranberry Explosion—Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 15.—The three members of the special commission on intra-State freight rates to adjust the schedule of rates in the Justice act passed by the recent special session of the Legislature in the light of the exceptions filed by the railroad companies will not be announced until Monday.

This statement was made today by Governor Craig. He had indicated some days ago that the appointments would be announced today. However, complications have arisen, the character of which he does not indicate, that necessitate the leaving of the appointments open until Monday.

Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman is just back from the Cranberry mines in Avery county where he went to investigate the killing of Aaron Buck and Stokes Wilson through premature explosion of a blast of powder. The commissioner found it impossible to account for the explosion which occurred while the two ill-fated men were tamping of powder. The officers of the Cranberry Furnace Co., gave every assistance, the commisioner says, in the investigation.

The Corporation Commission received today the petition from the citizens of Kinston for the Atlantic Coast Line and the Norfolk Southern to be required to provide a union passenger station there. The commission will serve notice on the railroad companies and later name a date on which the matter will be heard.

HAIR HINTS

Always have your own brush and comb both at home and at hair dresser's.

Never use the brush or comb found in public places, they are usually covered with dandruff germs.

Wash your brush and comb weekly with soap and warm water to which should be added an antiseptic.

Shampoo the hair every two weeks with pure soap and water, or a good ready prepared shampoo.

Use Parisian Sage every day, rubbing thoroughly into the scalp. It can be had from any druggist or toilet counter.

Parisian Sage, which comes in a large 50 cent bottle, is guaranteed to quickly abolish dandruff—to stop hair from falling and scalp from itching or money refunded by Robt. R. Bellamy.

To put life and beauty into dull, dry or faded hair and make it soft and fluffy surely use Parisian Sage—it is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known.

Sunday, November 16, 1913.

The doughty Huerta ought to resign and link up with some of these football battalions on this side of the line.

Atlanta has a million-dollar automobile show in progress. Or, at least, that's what it's called in the Atlanta papers.

Fayetteville lays claim to a refugee, all the way from Mexico, who arrived yesterday in a covered wagon. Atlanta next!

The daughter was being enjoined by the fond mother to walk the straight and narrow way. Which was altogether superfluous in this day of the "tube" skirt.

According to the local census agent's report, Mecklenburg seems about the only county in the State that has ginned enough cotton this year to make present-day prices attractive.

Baltimore raised $75,000 by popular stock subscription to get in baseball for 1914. It looks like Wilmington ought to raise that $5,000 to get the "Phillies" to train here next Spring.

That "dollar dinner" they pulled off over in Greensboro did not get in the class of a "peace conference" after Chief Justice Walter Clark and Governor Locke Craig had had their say.

Lumberton is too good a town to go without hotel facilities much longer. The Robesonian is speaking out for some accommodations and it is hoped its efforts will bear the proper kind of fruit.

A Washington dispatch announces that Uncle Sam is in readiness, at a moment's notice, to arm and equip 500,000 men to send into the field in the event of war with a first-class power.

"On to Mexico City" is the Constitutionalists' slogan to boom Carranza as Huerta's successor. With whiskers like Kern and the countenance of a patriarch, here's strength to the arm of the rebel leader!

Greensboro has established a censorship over all shows appearing at its playhouse in the future. And look what's coming! "Evelyn Nesbitt Tham," "Modern Eve" and "Seven Hours in New York."

Governor Craig has very fittingly designated the same day for Thanksgiving as did President Wilson, but he took rather a few more words to do it, President Wilson having reserved his vocabulary for the Mexican situation.

And now it is announced Congressman Charlie Thomas is going to try for a come-back in the Third Congressional District. Dr. Faison, the incumbent, should look out at Washington and get him something "just as good" in the way of a Federal appointment.

While President Taft may not have broken any precedents while he was in the White House, he has broken one since by paying his respects three times to his successor since he went out of office. Although now a Yale professor, he is the same, genial, kindly Taft that he always was and we all like him better for it.

The National Anti-Saloon League is now after Secretary Bryan for interfering in Maryland politics in behalf of Blair Lee, who was elected to the United States Senate. With Mexico and the Anti-Saloon League on his hands the distinguished Nebraskan is likely to have a not-undisturbed Thanksgiving.

Huerta seems to have troubles of his own at home. That fellow Blanquet, who seems to be in charge of the army down there, says he has arranged to arrest the Provisional President as a traitor if he fails to resign. Without an army and credit at his disposal, Old Man Huerta will be in a right serious predicament.

Negroes up Lumberton way are complaining that they are not allowed to receive as much liquor in a single shipment as the white "fokes" get. We do not know how that is, but they have a chief of police up there who will keep a close tab on what any of them get without regard to "race or previous condition of servitude."

CAUTION AND CONSERVATISM.

Following a period of unparalleled speculation, inflated values and a general mush-room condition of business, the present conservative trend of affairs in commerce is construed by many as an untoward sign of the times, but we look at it rather differently. There is an element of caution and conservatism in business just now that is very healthy and is a safe earnest that business is down to a legitimate basis, is being safely and sanely carried out and when improvement does come, it will be an improvement based upon a sound and legitimate condition of affairs that, in the end, is the only basis that is worth while.

With the currency bill all up in the air at Washington, with things unsettled down in Mexico and prices adjusting themselves to a new tariff, business is naturally a little slack just at present but with fundamental conditions the best, there is no reason to doubt that ere the holidays are over, trade will be brisk and the people will be in much better frame of mind than ever to enjoy their conserved resources.

President Wilson and his administration have demonstrated that they are well able to cope with any situation that may present itself at Washington and for once in a generation the people have in the White House a real representative of the people rather than of the interests. The country is all right and while business may not be going off at the tangents and skyrocketing of a few months ago, the future is bright and optimism is the watchword.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch is reprinting from its own columns half a century ago "What Was News Fifty Years Ago," and an exceedingly interesting summary it makes. A friend a few days ago handed The Star a clipping from the Times-Dispatch and among the general items of news at that time was that "The widow of ex-President Tyler has arrived at Nassau, having run the blockade from Wilmington, N. C." There is no more romantic period or place of the Civil War than the blockade running from this port and we should like to publish some authentic account of this trip of the widow of the ex-President.

One in this day and time is wont to exclaim, "How times have changed!" But have they changed so much after all? This resume of the news of fifty years ago would not read far different from the current items of today. For instance:

"Cornelius Fells and William Macklin, free negroes, convicted of stealing sugar and bacon, were sentenced to be sold into absolute slavery.

"The City Council has ordered a 25 per cent. raise in the salaries of the police force. This will help the officers to buy bread, but is not enough to enable them to educate their children.'

"The report is current among 'the fast men' of Richmond that gambling rooms have been opened in private houses in Shockoe Hill and elsewhere and that 'the tiger' has been unchained 'so that his victims are gobbled up without the least show for their money.'

The Greensboro, N. C. Beacon says that Dr. McFarland, of New Orleans, has invented what he considers a valuable substitute for quinine, consisting of a substance made from leaves of the balsam apple steeped for three or four days in a bottle of whiskey.

"A reformed gambler in this city says he has done more for the cause of total abstinence than any lecturer could have done in as many months. He says he has bought up all the whiskey to be had at enormous prices, and has cut short entirely the supply to old topers, if he had not put a stop to moderate drinking."

A TIMELY RECOMMENDATION.

Quite the most timely recommendation that we ever remember to have heard a grand jury make is that contained in the report of the grand jury submitted to Judge Rountree in New Hanover Superior Court yesterday morning—an injunction of harmony upon our several departments and officials of city and county government.

The grand jury quite reasonably recognizes the principles of honest differences of opinion, but the jurors very properly set out that the people have a right to insist and demand that the time of their public officials be given to the conduct of public affairs, rather than be wasted in constant "bickerings and useless contentions among themselves." The average public official seems to forget that the public wants service and is not interested in his little personal animosities, prejudices and political byplays.

There can be no doubt that the public welfare has been sacrificed to personal ends and prejudices in Wilmington and the grand jury and nine-tenths of the sane people of Wilmington perfectly agree with the report that it is impossible for the laws to be properly enforced or for the community to develop while such a state of affairs exists. There is a wonderful opportunity just now for all our boards and departments to exercise a little of the spirit of give and take and get together with a long pull and a pull altogether for Wilmington.

We have good and honest public officials, but they seem to lack the spirit of "get together." We trust most sincerely that the report of the grand jury will have its desired effect and that in future there may be more of harmony in the administration of our public affairs.

GET THE "PHILLIES."

Those "youngsters" of the Commercial Club are going after the Spring training camp of the Philadelphia National League baseball team in a way that is an earnest of wonderful success. The proposition has in it the possibilities of the finest kind of advertising for Wilmington and money could not be spent in a more effective way. An excellent plan of financing the "Get the 'Phillies' Movement" has been evolved and without risk or possibility of financial failure, the plan commends itself to every loyal and public-spirited Wilmingtonian whether he or she be interested in baseball or not. Progressive cities elsewhere spend thousands of dollars yearly merely to get the name of their towns in the date lines of the American newspapers and nothing could contribute more largely to this end for Wilmington than to get a real, live baseball team down here and bring in a few thousand people from the State to line the players up before the beginning of the regular season. The average man has no idea what a hold the great National sport has upon the people throughout the country. When gladsome Spring opens the columns of the average newspaper are more often opened than not at the sporting section and with Wilmington on the baseball map of the country, the city would at once invite attention as progressive in spirit and up-to-date in its methods—a good place in which to locate or to spend money. By all means, let's have the "Phillies!"

"THE SUNBEAM."

The Star welcomes to the newspaper circle in Wilmington, "The Sunbeam," an attractive little publication which has been revived by the pupils of Miss Alderman's School. It is as bright as its name indicates and in its salutatory says:

"The Sunbeam wishes to greet its many friends once again. Several years ago our little paper came out and gladdened the hearts of a great many boys and girls, and a great many older ones. The former editors are now all married and have little 'Sunbeams' of their own. I hope that they will still continue to take the paper and help us in our work. We want to help the Red Cross Hospital in their great work, and it is our object to help furnish a room for some boy or girl who may be a sufferer from tubercular trouble. We will publish every week the best compositions. Our local reporters are lively and on the lookout for anything that is interesting or spicy. Send us an advertisement, also a subscription. We will appreciate it very much. Call William Leftwich, our business manager, and he will be glad to quote you price."

CURRENT COMMENT.

The practical question of this day is not as to whether good roads should be built, but as to how to build them. Here there is infinite diversity of opinion; but one fact might just as well be admitted by all to begin with; good roads cost money and no community can get good roads without paying for them. They pay for themselves, to be sure, but they do it on the installment plan, and they must be built and put to work before they begin to pay. The cheapest way to get good roads is to go to work and build them in a business-like manner. Piddling measures and patchwork will in the end be far less profitable than an outright expenditure of the money needed to make the roads good at the outset.—Duplin Enterprise.

The railroad men are talking more and more about government ownership. They say that their position between the devil and the deep blue sea is rapidly becoming more so. The men who operate the railroads must have capital, and therefore, they must earn dividends. The public demands greater and greater facilities, and the employes demand higher and higher wages, whereas the rates for service are regulated by government with increasing vigor. There have been intimations that changes in the character of railroad investment have made it so unattractive to private capital that private capital would be glad to withdraw on the best terms possible. When the physical valuation of these properties has been concluded the halcyon days of railroad gambling will have ended forever. But will there be any other field of investment for all these millions that offers promise of greater, if more hazardous return? If there is, private capital would naturally be anxious to have the roads taken off its hands. It is all a guess as to how near or how remote is government ownership.—Greensboro News.

ROTATION OF JUDGES.

Editor Star: Efficient and righteous judicial administration rests on knowledge of law and of facts. The highest expression of the spirit of law is not realized in the mere philosophical judge, for knowledge of facts is essential, and fact is human nature in action.

In the matter of rotation of judges, there are good grounds for two opinions, but any one who has observed the administration of the criminal law by Judge Rountree must conclude that firm determination to punish violations of the law is sensibly aided by knowledge of local conditions.

Judicial integrity conceded, and with due allowance for the benefits of sectional intercourse, the weight of argument is against the rotation of judges.

ARRANGING FOR DEEP WELLS

Councilman Wood Expects to Begin Work After Meeting Wednesday. Gathering Data on Municipal Lighting Plant.

Preliminary arrangements are being made by Councilman Wood, in charge of the Department of Water and Sewerage, to begin the drilling of a battery of deep wells from which it is hoped to obtain the public water supply. When Council meets Wednesday afternoon it will pass the resolution making available for immediate use $3,000 with which to begin the work and Councilman Wood's idea is to start just as soon after this meeting as possible.

It is not the purpose of Councilman Wood to wait until after the report of the water expert is made before beginning the work on the deep wells. Just as soon as the money is available he expects to begin experiments to determine what part of the city will afford the greatest supply of good water. He hopes, however, that these experiments will demonstrate that plenty of water can be obtained on the city property, near the water works plant, in the northern part of the city.

Councilman Wood said that if the United States government accedes to the request of the Council as transmitted by Mayor Moore and concurred in by the State Board of Health, that any advice given by the government to send an expert here, investigate the situation and make report that his department will be glad to make use of the information given by him. But so firmly convinced is he that there is an abundance of good water under ground here to furnish Wilmington's supply that it is his purpose to go ahead with the deep well project without waiting for the expert if he is delayed in coming.

The information recently obtained from the government by Mr. W. E. Worth with regard to the geological survey that has been made of Wilmington and section shows conclusively, said Councilman Wood yesterday, that there is ample water underground here to supply the needs of the city and that it is good water. The bulletin issued by the government covering this survey shows the location of all the deep wells already sunk here, the depth, quantity and quality of water, and also shows the rock formation, etc. In other words, the information is complete. Councilman Wood said that this information would greatly facilitate the work of the government water expert if one is sent here.

Municipal Lighting Plant.

Councilman Wood is continuing his investigations relative to municipal lighting plants with a view of making report to Council as to the feasibility of the installation of a municipal plant in Wilmington. He has written to a number of cities that have municipal plants and to some that obtain their supply of electricity from an established power company and then sell it to the consumers, and, also, he has written to the Carolina Power Company, Raleigh, relative to furnishing current to the city from the water power on the Pee Dee river at Blewett's Falls.

One of the replies received by Councilman Wood is from Mayor Fred N. Tate, of High Point. The following is the letter and it will prove of interest to the people of this city:

"In reply to your valued favor of the 11th, I beg to say that the city of High Point has a 10-year contract with the North Carolina Public Service Company, a corporation owning and operating a gas plant and the electric car line in High Point, Greensboro and other towns, and which concern buys its electric current from the Southern Power Company, to furnish us with all necessary current for the operation of the incondescent electric lighting system for our city (which system the city controls) at a rate of 2 1-2 cents per K. W. hour. The city in turn sells the current to the consumers, large or small, through the meters at 6 cents per K. W. hour, and after allowing for the loss of current on the line and taking care of all operating and other up-keep expenses, we show a profit for the city on this basis of 15 to 20 per cent.

"The Public Service Company owns the arc lighting system and under a 10-year contract they furnish us whatever number of lights we may need (there are now 170 in use) at a price of $66 per year per light. After we reach 200 the price decreases to $58 or 300 lights $56. These are the latest improved 2,000 c.p. luminous arc lights."

Mayor Tate adds as a postscript to his letter the following: "The Public Service Company has franchise for electric power to factories and other consumers. I think their price is about 2 1-2 cents per K. W. hour."

Councilman Wood said this letter shows that High Point, after making a profit of 15 or 20 per cent is able to furnish lights to the people of the town for just half what is charged in Wilmington.

The Council has authorized the purchase and the order has been given for $1,000 worth of new water meters, which will be put in use for the most part in the sections of the city where the extensions to the sewerage system are being made. In the order there are 35 meters, size 5-8, at $12.40; 15, size 3-4 at $21.60, and a large one costing $225 for use at the Atlantic Coast Line offices. These meters are bought from the National Meter Company and are expected to arrive in a few weeks.

CASE WAS NON-SUITED.

Rochelle Must Bring Suit Against Lumber Co. in Court of Equity.

The entire day yesterday in Federal court was taken up with the case of J. B. Rochelle against the Cumberland Lumber Co., of Wallace, in which the plaintiff asked that the corporation pay him $20,000 for the loss of a leg which he sustained while in the employ of this company in 1907. Witnesses were placed on the stand yesterday to prove the contentions of the plaintiff that while an agreement was made by which the corporation was to reimburse him for the injury the nature of the contract was misleading, and he was therefore entitled to recover damages. Fraud was not charged by the plaintiff. After hearing the evidence and argument by counsel Judge Connor ruled that it was not a proper case for a court of law, and that an action, if any was brought, should be in a court of equity. He, therefore, ordered a non-suit. A new case will likely be brought under the rules of a court of equity.

The plaintiff was represented by J. O. Carr and E. K. Bryan, Esqs., and the defendant by Hon. John D. Bellamy, E. L. Stevens, Esq., of Warsaw, and C. D. Weeks, Esq.

The hearing of cases on the civil docket will be resumed tomorrow and as the docket is rather lengthy court will probably remain in session all week.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Pawned Watch That Wasn't His and Gets Six Months.

"'Fore God I nevah stole dat watch; I just went ter de room and got it and tuck hit down to der palmshop to git some money dat I had ter have. No sah, boss, I shore didn't steal hit," said George Nichols, colored, yesterday when confronted in the Recorder's Court with a charge of stealing a watch which belonged to his grandfather.

Nichols took the watch Friday afternoon down to "Uncle Charlie's" pawnshop on Front street, and tried to get some money for it. Mr. Finkelstein, the proprietor, when he saw the watch recognized it as one which he had recently sold to a negro, and his suspicions were aroused. He notified the police department and made Nichols stay in the store until Officer Leon George could come to arrest him.

Nichols stoutly denied having stolen the watch, saying that when he went into the room there was no one in there and seeing the watch he picked it up and put it in his pocket. Needing some money he thought he would pawn it and later get it back, he said. The Recorder, however, thought it was larceny and sent him to the roads for six months.

A case against Mr. E. H. Schulken, charged with exceeding the speed limit while running an automobile, was dismissed. There were two cases against Joe Bowman, colored, for speeding. One of these was dismissed, and judgment in the other left open until Monday. A case against Herbert Bomen, a colored boy, charged with shooting a rifle in the streets, was dismissed on account of his youth. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Rosa Calder, colored, charged with assault and battery. Isabella Hilton, colored, was sent to the county farm for 30 days for disorderly conduct.

A nol pros with leave was taken in a case against Henry Willis, colored, charged with assault on a female. This action was taken on account of the absence of a State's witness. J. P. Pearce, white, who submitted Thursday to a charge of assault, was fined $25 and the costs which he paid. He shot at his brother-in-law, Mr. W. D. Orr, some days ago, it was charged.

Were Selling Fresh Meat.

Ignorance of the law excuses no man, and consequently Hezekiah Miller, Robert Loftin and Edward Nixon, all colored, now find themselves charged with selling fresh meat in the city of Wilmington. Not that selling fresh meat is an offense here, but it is a violation of an ordinance to sell it without having the proper license. These negroes came to the city yesterday with a supply which they were selling at Front and Dock streets when Officer Cox happened along. They didn't have any license and had to go to the police station where Chief Williams recognized them for their appearance before the Recorder Monday morning.

NEW PIPE ORGAN INSTALLED

Recital to be Given at St. John's Church Thursday Night—New Mission Established in Brooklyn.

The vestry and members of St. St. John's Episcopal church have just installed a beautiful new pipe organ in that church, and the formal opening of the organ, to which the public generally is invited, is scheduled for next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The opening recital will be given by Prof. Geo. L. Johnson, F. R. C. O., assisted by Prof. T. Stanley France and St. John's choir.

The ability and the reputation of these musicians are well known in Wilmington, and are a guarantee of a musical treat for all who attend the service. Prof. Johnson is a master musician, Fellow of the Royal College of Organists of London, England, and is a master of the pipe organ. Prof. France has also served as organist in England as well as America, and his splendid work with St. John's choir is well known here. The fact that Prof. Johnson's programme will be interspersed with vocal selections by St. John's choir, under the direction of Prof. France, St. John's organist and choirmaster, will give variety to the programme and a double treat to music-lovers.

Something About the Organ.

The new organ at St. John's was built by the Estey Organ Company, of Brattleboro, Vermont, and represents the highest development of pipe organ construction. It is equipped with tubular pneumatic action throughout, as well as tubular pneumatic stop action. The stop action consists of tilting tablets above the manual in the center of the console. This renders it possible to make changes in registration more rapidly than by the old-fashioned draw-stop action. The various tones are very pure, and the characteristic quality of each individual tone is preserved throughout the length of the register. Each tone blends perfectly with every other tone, and the balance of the full organ is well preserved. The Oboe is one of the lately-invented metal-flue pipes, without any reed, but of peculiar structure and voicing. Each pipe in the organ has its individual supply of wind, thereby avoiding any 'robbing' or "gasping" of the pipes. The power is supplied by an electric motor.

The Programme.

Prelude, Sonata D. Major ..Fumagalli
Processional Hymn, Onward Christian Soldiers.
Opening Prayer
Anthem (A) Sanctus, Holy, Holy, Holy .....Gounod
(B) Benedictus .....Gounod
Organ, In the Cathedral (Lohengrin) .....Wagner
Hymn, All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name
Organ, Andante (from Quartette B Flat) .....Tschaikowsky
Anthem, And the Glory of the Lord .....Handel
Organ, Concert Rondo .....Hollins
Offertory Anthem, In Heavenly Love Abiding .....W. E. Brown
Organ (A) Chant de Bonheur..Lemare
(B) Caprice .....Guilmant
Anthem, Hallelujah Chorus ..Handel
Benediction.
Recessional Hymn, Angel Voices Ever Singing.
Postlude, Fantasia, C Minor ..Berens

An offering will be taken in behalf of the organ fund.

Establish New Mission.

In connectinon with the installation of the new organ it will be of interest to note that through the kindly and generous co-operation of two public spirited citizens, interested in the Christian work of the northern end of the city, the Senior Chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in St. John's church has secured a house and lot at 1313 North Fourth street, and have started a fine work there. On Wednesday of the past week, a kindergarten school was opened with eleven pupils, and a Sunday School will be organized this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The building and the grounds are being put in thorough repair with a view to larger religious and social service in the near future.

Public Playground.

The lot is a large one, with wide frontage on Fourth street and a very considerable depth, and it is the purpose of those in charge of the mission to start a public playground there as soon as the work gets sufficiently under way. By another year, perhaps, they will have a well-equipped children's playground in the northern end of the city, and it is hoped that similar movements will be made elsewhere till there are playgrounds scattered all over the city. Experts on the subject say that the practical and really serviceable playgrounds are not the large grounds centrally located, but the smaller local playgrounds not more than eight or ten blocks apart and easily accessible. The local playground in Brooklyn is a move in the right direction and again The Star voices the hope that other communities in the city will establish like places of recreation for the children.

WHALE SIGHTED AT BEACH.

Wilmington Party of Anglers Saw It With Their Own Eyes.

While Messrs. L. W. Moore, John H. Hanby, W. E. Yopp and B. T. Hopkins, four of Wilmington's most expert anglers, were fishing at the Seashore Hotel pier at Wrightsville Beach Friday afternoon, they saw a whale floating leisurely along in the water about 20 feet away from the pier. Mr. Yopp was the first to see the strange-looking object, and at first thought that it was a boat. He called the attention of the others to the sight, and they soon saw that it was a whale. They were in a boat and the fishing was good but fearing that the big fish might start towards them they thought it wise to pull closer to the shore. While it was impossible for them to determine its exact length they say it must have been 25 or 30 feet long. Occasionally he would spout up the water in true whale fashion, and was apparently taking it easy. Doubtless he was going South to seek a warmer climate.

Funeral of Mrs. Rivenbark.

The funeral of Mrs. Almira Rivenbark, an aged lady, who died Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maggie Colvin, will be held this afternoon from the residence, No. 720 1-2 South Sixth street, and will be conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

STOP THE INTERNAL STRIFE

Grand Jury Comments on Differences Between Local Officials—Term of Court Came to Close Yesterday.

"While we realize that honest differences of opinion will naturally arise, the people have a right to demand and insist that the time of their public officials be devoted to the conduct of public duties and not be wasted in constant bickerings and contentions," is a striking sentence from the report yesterday of the November grand jury in commenting upon the "strife, contentions and clash of authority" between several public bodies and public officials of this community.

Continuing, the report states that the grand jurors "feel that our officials do not realize that the public welfare is being sacrificed, and that it is impossible for the laws to be properly enforced or for the community to develop as it should, under these conditions, and further that waste of the people's time is equivalent to waste of the people's money."

The report of the grand jury was quite the feature of the closing day of the one-week term of court, there being only a few cases remaining on the docket to be disposed of yesterday. Court adjourned about noon The grand jurors received the thanks of the court for their careful and thorough work.

The report in full is given as follows:

"To His Honor, George Rountree, Judge of the Superior Court, New Hanover County, North Carolina.

"We, the grand jury for November term of court, have carefully considered the matters contained in your charge and, having examined into the condition of the county, we beg to report as follows:

"We have found 10 true bills and three not true bills, and have made 32 presentments.

Roads Need Repairs.

"The roads of the county which we have inspected we find in good condition, except the Scott's Hill road and the first six miles of the Castle Haynes road, much of which is in bad condition. We have talked with the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners on of roads and he appreciates the condition of those which are bad and has comprehensive plans for general road improvements and road building, which we approve.

"We find that the main thoroughfare of the city, Market street, from 10th to 17th, is not only in bad condition, but, during the hours of heavy traffic is congested and dangerous. The southern half of this street should be much improved and the northern half put in condition for use. We also notice the northern side of the sidewalk on Castle street, between Fourth and Fifth, is in dangerous condition and should be fixed at once.

"We found the convict camps at East Wilmington, Federal Point and Acorn Branch well kept and the prisoners contented with the food and general treatment, except with the heating arrangements at Federal Point and Acorn Branch camps, which should be improved. There are 109 convicts, (three of whom are sick) four foremen and 13 guards. The teams, tools and implements are in good shape

The County Home.

"The county home was found to be in very good condition, clean and sanitary. There are 23 inmates and 32 prisoners, all of those questioned reporting good treatment. While we regret having these prisoners kept so near the inmates of the home, we do not see that the situation can be remedied at present. The county farm seems to be excellently managed, not only maintaining itself but producing forage and supplies for the convict camps. The plumbing at the home should be put in order, and we strongly recommend that a heating plant be installed, as the present system of wood fires is not economical and is quite dangerous on account of the nature of the inmates.

"We found the jail clean and apparently well managed, the prisoners reporting satisfactory treatment. However, we are informed that 90 per cent. of the negro prisoners have contagious diseases and we think those who are healthy should not be exposed, while in the hands of the county, to contagion from the others.

"Those of the schools which were visited were found to be in good sanitary condition. In view of the new buildings soon to be erected, we think it is not necessary to make any recommendation as to the defects observed in the schools for white children, except that the fire escapes at the Union and Hemenway schools need strengthening. The roof of the Peabody school should be repaired, and a fire drill should be introduced at the Williston school as its fire escape facilities are not good—also the heating arrangements in this building should be improved.

"The Court House building was found to be well cared for, the recent improvements well planned and executed and the money wisely spent. We advise better lighting arrangements for the Register of Deeds' office and we have ourselves suffered inconvenience on account of the lack of a suitable waiting room for grand jury witnesses which we recommend should by all means be arranged.

Investigated County Offices.

"We have, at your request, looked into the conduct of the several county offices. We find the office of the Clerk of Court is well administered and his books and accounts kept up to date. It is found that his records are sometimes removed from his office contrary to law, but, after conference with him, we are unable to suggest a remedy, except that inquiry of other similar offices may develop that there is some suitable system which could be made applicable here.

"We have very carefully investigated the office of the sheriff as to the service of papers and as to the enforcement of the law, and we find that he has been arduous in the enforcement of all of the laws except the law against the speeding of motor-driven vehicles. There has been a great deal of testimony given us as to the enforcing of this law, and it has been so conflicting that we have been very much perplexed by it, but, upon the whole, we find that this law has been reasonably well enforced, and that the sheriff has exercised reasonable diligence in the service of papers with the force at his command. To insure good service in the future, we recommend the employment of another man who can assist the office deputy when necessary and do field work at other times. We find that the speed regulations for motor-driven vehicles are being constantly violated in both the city and county, even by our most responsible citizens, and we strongly urge the active co-operation of the public in reporting to the proper authorities specific offenses coming to their notice. We believe the assistance of the public in this regard is essential to the proper enforcement of this law.

"We find that Jamaica ginger is being quite generally used as a substitute for whiskey, that much of it is being sold by druggists and grocers—some without labeling. We recommend that the druggists and grocers co-operate with the officers of the law in suppressing this evil, and that a stringent law be passed to regulate it.

"We feel that we would be derelict in our duty if we failed to mention a matter which vitally affects the interests of every one in this community. Between the several public bodies and public officials we find strife, contentions and clash of authority. We find differences between the Board of County Commissioners and the City Council, between the City Council and the Mayor, between the Board of Health and the City Council, between the Board of County Commissioners and the Sheriff, between the Mayor and the Commissioner of Public Safety. While we realize that honest differences of opinion will naturally arise, the people have a right to demand and insist that the time of their public officials be devoted to the conduct of public duties and not to be wasted in constant bickerings and contentions. We feel that our officials do not realize that the public welfare is being sacrificed, and that it is impossible for the laws to be properly enforced or for the community to develop as it should, under these conditions, and further that waste of the people's time is equivalent to waste of the people's money. In addition, if we are to maintain our credit and reputation abroad, we must put a stop to these serious internal dissensions.

"As an example, we note with regret the conflict of authority between the Mayor and the Commissioner of Public Safety with respect to the control of the police department. We feel that this question should be settled immediately either by reference to the courts or, if this is impracticable, by an agreement between the officials concerned to refer the matter to some high authority, and to abide by his decision until the question can be settled by amendment to the city charter. It is easily conceivable that a situation might arise at any time in which a conflict of authority between these officials would seriously imperil the public safety.

"Respectfully submitted,
"M. F. H. GOUVERNEUR,
"Foreman.
"D. H. HOWES, JR.,
"Secretary.

Cases against C. W. Harvell, Ralph Mills, Jarvis Mills and Reuben Jarrel, ministers, recently indicted for nuisance because of alleged disturbance created in meetings at Delgado, were nol prossed with leave, as a case against Macon Cavenaugh, charging similar offense, with practically the same evidence as in the other cases, resulted Friday in an acquittal of the defendant.

They are the employers—the spendthrifts are the employed. This doesn't imply that every employe is a spendthrift; the hard-working, thrifty laboring man is the back-bone of this and any other community. But every man who saves can become his own boss.

Gossard Corset Demonstration This Week

Miss Mabel C. Lett, of the H. W. Gossard Co., will be with us Nov. 17 to 22, inc., to explain the superlative merit of the Gossard Corsets.

You will be interested in seeing the remarkable results accomplished by her in figure improvement.

THE FRONT-LACING PRINCIPLE AND GOSSARD CORSETS.

The front-lacing principle (originated by The H. W. Gossard Co.) has accomplished much for the comfort and convenience of woman's dress.

Of even greater importance than front-lacing, however, has been the genius displayed in the actual designing and making of Gossard Corsets.

So outstanding and thorough has been this work that, great as the front-lacing principle is, the Gossard method of design and manufacture transcends it, and the two combined occupy a position so commanding that they are now regarded as an international vogue.

There is a model for every figure and a price for every purse.

Regardless of the cost—every Gossard Corset conforms to but one standard in style, workmanship and wearing service.

The price you pay indicates your preference for a particular model or material.

BIJOU FEATURES.

Another Big Week Scheduled Beginning Tomorrow Afternoon.

Last week was the biggest week in the history of the Bijou, not only in the class of offerings, but in attendance as well. A half page advertisement carried in last Sunday's Star announced the programme for the week, and was the means of crowding the popular playhouse every minute it was open from Monday afternoon until last night.

The Bijou management has booked the famous Warner Feature films regularly, and again during the coming week will put on three of these pictures, in addition to the usual big daily bill. The "Warner Feature" pictures, it might be explained, are produced by a company of photoplay artists who do not produce the ordinary run of pictures, but only a feature service, which is sold to theatres which want something of the very highest quality to supplement their usual bill, and it was a rare stroke of luck that the Bijou was enabled to secure them in Wilmington. A half page ad in today's Star gives the Warner features for the coming week.

..Theatrical..

All ready for another big week at the cozy, handsome Grand Theatre, the mecca for both old and young and which is enjoying huge patronage these days from a public that knows how to appreciate the best. The bill that will start off the new week tomorrow is a "hummer" in every way. It bristles with the dramatic and sparkles with the best of comedy, while there will be plenty of new music on the side, to add to the merriment, and the price of admission will be anchored at the same old 5 cent spot. Leading tomorrow's great collection of films is Pathe's "The Smuggler." It is a dramatic with a punch and dealing with a theme that amusement-lovers always find fascinating. A father, in order to send his daughter to school, becomes captain of a band of smugglers. What happens is exciting and spectacular. A fine cast will appear.

The chief fun film on tomorrow is Edison's "Reginald's Courtship." It's a daisy for laughs and a superb cast will be seen, headed by that prince of comedians, William Wadsworth. Clever Alice Washburn will be seen in the role of "Mrs. McGinn."

There is another topliner on tomorrow in Lubin's "A Deal in Oil," and it is something unique in the way of a comedy drama.

Big Week at Bijou.

Playing to capacity business all day yesterday, the Bijou brought to a brilliant climax the biggest week, both artistically and financially, in its history, and closed what was the most stupendous week in the history of the "movies" in Wilmington. Yet the whirlwind amusement procedure of the popular Bijou is not to let up. Tomorrow afternoon this favorite spot will inaugurate another tremendous week and the opening bill, for tomorrow afternoon and night, will be something gigantic and elaborate. As the star of tomorrow's show will be offered the startling, sensational, thrilling and costly three-reel special release film, "The Glass Coffin." Though its name might suggest it there is nothing gruesome about the story. It is a tale of India, with all its weirdness and mysteries and it is the sensational novelty of the day. The Bijou was enabled to get it only at big extra cost. However, it is well to note right now, that even though there has been additional cost, the price of admission will not be advanced. It will be the same old 5 cents, afternoon and night. There will be other features besides this big one at the Bijou, to give the week a swell start; to inaugurate what bids fair to be even a greater week than the one that closed yesterday. It is a safe bet that the Bijou will be jammed tomorrow at all performances.

CHARLOTTE WILL HELP.

Business Men Favorably Impressed With Southern Steamship Co.

Charlotte business men are favorably impressed with the proposed new boat line between Wilmington and Northern ports, and a committee appointed Thursday night by Charlotte shippers to confer with Mr. H. F. Morse, treasurer of the Morse Securities Company, have drawn up a proposition in writing and submitted it to Mr. Morse looking towards the sale of $25,000 worth of the stock of the Southern Steamship Company to the shippers of that city.

According to The Charlotte Observer of yesterday the agreement proved to be entirely satisfactory, and Mr. Morse left Friday night for New York City to confer with the board of directors of his corporation and if satisfactory to them to sign and return to the Charlotte committee. The nature of the proposition was not given out. Mr. Morse, however, it is stated, seemed to be greatly pleased with the outlook.

In an interview in yesterday's Observer he said that if Charlotte business men took $25,000 of stock in the new company that it would mean four boats for Wilmington instead of three as at present contemplated. But whether Charlotte subscribed any stock or not there will be three steamers placed in operation between Wilmington and Northern ports, he stated.

The meeting in Charlotte Thursday night was attended by Messrs. B. F. Keith and J. S. McEachern, who returned to Wilmington Friday. They speak in the highest terms of the cordial response which Charlotte shippers made to the proposition for putting on a new line of steamers, and are enthusiastic over the outlook.

It is understood that similar meetings to that in Charlotte will be held in other interior cities such as Greensboro and Raleigh to interest shippers in the new steamboat line.

New Telephone Directory.

Manager Lucas, of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., says that the new telephone directories are now delivered to all subscribers, and if, for any reason, any subscriber has not received a copy, he or she may be accommodated by calling at the office or sending in a request for a copy.

MR. L. B. ROGERS PRESIDENT.

Former Wilmingtonian Heads New Bank in Asheville.

Many friends in Wilmington, where he formerly resided, will be interested in the news from Asheville, where he is now located, that Mr. L. B. Rogers has been elected president of the Southern State Bank, which has just been organized in the mountain city. The vice presidents are Messrs. R. L. Francis and S. Sternberg, while Mr. R. E. Currence has been named as cashier. The following paragraphs from an article in Tuesday's Asheville Citizen with reference to the organization of the new bank will be of interest:

"Mr. Rogers, the president of the new bank, who is also president of the Rogers Grocery Company, doing a wholesale business, is a man of much banking experience, having been connected with Wilmington banks prior to his coming to Asheville. He has met with much success in a business way since coming here.

"R. E. Currence, who will be cashier at the new institution, was cashier of a Gastonia bank for three years and was connected with the American National Bank, of this city, for the last three years. This board of directors, as will be noted, contains the names of some of Asheville's most successful business men, and their names are also found on the directorates of other banks in this city.

"The Southern State Bank, which will do a general commercial and savings bank business, will, it is stated, fill a long felt want in the railway section of the city and will be quite a convenience for railroad men and other residents of that section. The establishment of this institution gives further evidence of Asheville's business and financial growth. The capital stock of the bank, which will be ready for business November 17th, is $25,000."

Drainage Convention in Charlotte.

On Tuesday of this week the North Carolina Drainage Association will have a convention in Charlotte which will be in session for three days. It will be attended by representatives from all parts of the State, and especially from the eastern section where drainage is one of the important elements in the development of farming interests. Mr. B. F. Keith, who was authorized by the Chamber of Commerce to appoint representatives to represent Wilmington, has appointed Messrs. M. F. H. Gouverneur and A. O. McEachern.

Meeting Monday Noon.

Mayor Moore yesterday called a meeting of the City Council to be held at noon tomorrow. Primarily, the purpose of the meeting is to take formal action on the health budget in accordance with the agreement reached at the joint conference with the County Commissioners last week. Incidentally, some other matters may come up for consideration. Bids will be opened at that time for sidewalk paving in pursuance to advertisement.

Have Resumed Business.

Friends of ex-Alderman J. O. Brown will be pleased to know that he has resumed business in Wilmington, having formed a co-partnership with his brother, Mr. J. T. Brown, under the firm name of J. T. & J. O. Brown, general carriage builders and repairers at No. 13 North Third street. They do a painting and finishing business that will appeal especially to carriage and automobile owners.

Whitney, the celebrated basso, and Miss Marguerite Valentine, piano soloist accompanist, who will give a concert at the Boys' Brigade armory tomorrow night, will reach the city this morning coming directly from Washington, D. C. Their early arrival is to enable Mr. Whitney to fill his engagement to sing at St. James' Episcopal church tonight.

This is the first opportunity the people of Wilmington have had to hear this great artist in sacred solo and doubtless many will take advantage of it. The regular concert will be presented in the auditorium of the Boys' Brigade tomorrow night, beginning at 8:30 when a full house is expected to enjoy this splendid musical treat.

Tickets will be on sale at Munson & Co.'s tomorrow or they may be secured at the door tomorrow night just previous to the concert. COTTON CLOSED STEADY

Considerable Realizing—Offerings Were Well Enough Absorbed However to Give Market a Steady Undertone.

New York, Nov. 15.—There was considerable realizing in the cotton market today. Offerings were well enough absorbed, however, to give the market a steady undertone and the close was steady at a net decline of 23 points in November, but only five points under the final figures of yesterday on active months. Rumors that preliminary returns to the National Ginners' Association indicated that ginning for the last period from November 1st to November 14th, had been 1,423,000 bales, or rather less than reflected by the private report published yesterday may have helped the market somewhat in the late trading, as closing prices were 2 or 3 points up from the lowest.

Relatively easy Liverpool cables preceded the realizing movement here and first prices were 1 to 4 points lower. There was some buying by houses with German connections as well as further covering of shorts and moderate support from the local bulls, but after some early irregularity, prices gradually sagged off with active months selling about 8 to 10 points net lower late in the morning. Reviews of the domestic goods trade indicated a fair demand for immediate shipment at full prices but a poor demand for forward shipments and it is said that in some instances the mills are ready to grant concessions for contracts. Fall River reports that a raw material stock suffer three months requirements is held by mills only in exceptional cases.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REPORT

The Highly Irregular Character of Stock This Week Reflected the Continuance of Uncertainty as to the Outlook.

New York, Nov. 15.—The highly irregular character of the stock this week reflected a continuance of the uncertainty as to the outlook. The great question confronting the financial world relating to international monetary conditions, political complications and the business situation remained unsolved. The stock market, nevertheless, showed a definite improvement on the week. It benefitted from the hopes of settlement of the Mexican problem without military intervention.

In all markets there were indications of a liquidated condition and watchfulness for signs of a revival. Great importance was attached to the outcome of the forthcoming French loan for $280,000,000 which, it is hoped, will unlock hoarded capital besides. In this country increasing dependence is placed upon allowance of higher railroad freight rates to stimulate investment markets.

Laying off of steel workers indicated that the recession in that trade was still in progress. Firmer German steel markets lessened fears of foreign competition as a result of tariff changes. Further price concessions were announced by domestic producers. Weakness of refined copper pointed to conditions in that trade paralleling those in the steel industry.

The snow storm increased the costs of railroad operations, but stimulated a seasonable demand for merchandise and resulted in an improvement in crop prospects. The large acreage sown to Winter wheat entered into speculative estimates. The government's estimate of the large sum realized from the corn crop measured the compensation to farmers of the high price for the short crop.

WEEKLY COTTON MARKET.

Price Changes Were Narrow—Week Was Very Quiet.

New York, November 15.—It was a quiet week in the cotton market. Price changes were narrow. After the middle of the week the market displayed some little activity and considerable firmness.

The net results of the week's trading were an advance of 18 to 26 points. The high prices were made on Friday and the low prices on Monday. At the highest the trading months were 32 to 40 points over last week's close; at the lowest they were 5 to 8 points under. The range was 39 to 48 points.

Trading was unimportant during the early part of the week. On Wednesday and Thursday there were many reports that picking and ginning were nearing the completion which the bulls accepted as proof of their small crop claims. On these reports the market did better. On Friday a material advance was caused by the monthly report on consumption and Hester's weekly statistics on mill takings. The figures on consumption in this country of 542,809 bales during October, against 513,060 the same month last year were accepted as one of the most bullish developments thus far this season.

TRADING IN STOCKS LIGHT

After a Firm Opening the Market Became Heavy, Principally from Lack of Demand—Investment Buyers Held Aloof.

New York, November 15.—Trading in stocks was light throughout today's session and in most cases net changes were only nominal.

After a firm opening the market became heavy, principally from lack of demand. Investment buyers held aloof. Speculators worked with caution, being inclined to take the bear side because of absence of support and the continued weakness of various stocks, such as Missouri Pacific, New Haven and Lehigh Valley. Losses were small, however, and they were largely made up on the late scattered buying. Lehigh Valley was heavy throughout. New Haven made another low record at 75. Missouri Pacific at 24 7-8 was at the year's lowest.

There was a general disposition to await Mexican developments. The day was barren of news with an influence on market values, with the exception of further pessimistic reports from the steel trade. The weekly reviews of trade conditions referred to lessened commercial activity in various lines.

The bank statement made the expected good showing. There was an actual gain in currency of more than $12,000,000 and $7,853,000 was added to the surplus. No difficulties are now anticipated in connection with December 1st payments, although preparations for meeting these requirements may produce a temporary stiffening in call funds.

The bond market was irregular with heaviness in some well known issues. Total sales par value, $590,000. United States 4s advanced one-half cent on call on the week.

Total sales stocks, 70,700, including: Lehigh Valley, 2,700; Seaboard Air Line preferred, 100; Southern Railway, 100; U. S. Steel, 13,400.

CHAMBER AF DEPUTIES MEET AND ORGANIZE

body who succeeds Huerta by the power which he has usurped."

This statement was occasioned by various suggestions reaching here through the press and semi-official channels that certain persons might be acceptable to both Huerta and Carranza and President ad interim. No name yet suggested to Carranza has brought an encouraging reply.

Successes of the Revolutionists, reported today, added greatly to the already cheerful attitude of officials here attending the negotiations conducted with Washington through William Bayard Hale, representative of President Wilson. It was asserted that while the hitherto unrecognized Revolutionists now had direct and friendly relations with Washington, Provisional President Huerta had none.

The taking today of Juarez by Villa's forces, the capture yesterday of Culiacan, captain of Sionala, and the attack today on Victoria, capital of Tampaulipas on the Gulf of Mexico, it was asserted would affect materially the International status of the Revolutionists. It was asserted the revolution had doubled importance internationally in the last week.

The suspense incident to the pending diplomatic relations with the United States was lightened today by the message in which General Huerta congratulated General Carranza on his stand in regard to mediation by any foreign Nation. On all sides the matter was taken lightly. It was received with amusement and was not considered likely to affect the attitude of the Mexican people in general toward the United States.

Americans Endangered.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 15.—Wireless messages from American warships now in Mexican water, according to reports received here, state that 500 Americans, unable to leave the district between Tuxpam and Tampico, where there is fierce fighting between the rebels and Federals, may have to fight to save their own lives.

The gunboat Wheeling is reported at anchor in Panuco river and has on board several refugees from Tampico. The Aquil Oil plant, employing about 500 people, located near Tampico, has been forced to close.

Ammunition to Troops.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 15.—Reliable reports here today indicate that heavy shipments of supplies nave been forwarded in the past few days to United States troops at El Paso and Eagle Pass, Texas, headquarter for the Mexican border patrol. Ammunition and small arms are said to constitute the bulk of the supplies.

It was learned also that the second cavalry, which had been ordered to Fort Ethan Allen after several months patrol duty, will remain in the Texas department for the present, although the 15th cavalry, which was originally ordered to relieve the second is already on the border.

BODY STILL IN RIVER.

Efforts to Recover Body of Capt. Henry W. Edge Unsuccessful.

Although dredging was continued all day yesterday, the body of Capt. Henry W. Edge, who lost his life at Hood's Creek Friday morning when the steamer C. W. Lyon was burned, was not found yesterday. A party from Wilmington will go to the scene of the disaster this morning to aid in the search for the body.

The vessel was burned to the water's edge, and nothing except the iron hull was left. It is believed that this will prove to be practically worthless. The entire cargo was, of course destroyed. Several of the crew had all their personal effects on the boat which were burned, making it necessary for them to purchase new clothing. All the books and records on board were destroyed as the safe was open when the fire was discovered, and Capt. Register did not have time to place them in the safe.

BISHOP STRANGE IMPROVING.

Taking Walks and Enjoying Baseball Games in New York State.

Many friends throughout the eastern part of the State will be gratified to learn that Rt. Rev. Robt. Strange, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, who became ill in New York City a few weeks ago and whose condition for a while was considered serious, is now rapidly recovering at Kerhonkson, N. Y., where he went a few days ago to recuperate. A friend of the family yesterday received a letter from Mrs. Strange, who is with her husband, stating that Bishop Strange is taking long walks each day and is also enjoying baseball games, which is the chief diversion in the little town. Bishop Strange hopes to be able to return to his work in the diocese the first of the year.

No official notice of the time when the train will be put on has been received by the division freight and passenger office of the road here. Notice, however, has been received that the new schedules will go into effect the first Sunday in December, and it is presumed that the new train will go on at that time. No announcement has been made of the proposed schedules, and it is not known whether or not any material changes will be made.

FRYING PAN LIGHTSHIP.

Will Not be Removed From Station. Washington News.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—It was decided definitely today that the lightship will not be moved from Frying Pan shoals to about 30 miles distant to sea. Some three years ago Senator Overman had a resolution passed appropriating $125,000 for the lightship at Frying Pan Shoals. Both Secretaries Nagel and Redfield decided that the ship should be moved to sea. A ruling by the attorney general, however, decided that according to the law the ship would have to remain at Frying Pan shoals.

E. J. Justice, who has been appointed an assistant attorney general, will leave Washington tonight for Greensboro. Within the next week, it is understood, Mr. Justice will make a trip to the Pacific coast where he will be engaged in special work for the Department of Justice.

Out of the $44,311,000 already distributed by the Treasury Department, North Carolina has received $1,400,000.

THE NEW COMMERCIAL CLUB

Active and Progressive in Its Methods —Membership Now Exceeds 160 —Employ "City Builder"— Its Purposes.

The Wilmington Commercial Club has been exceedingly active in its progressive treatment of several public matters that have arisen since its organization, and, judging from the spirit of business-like, earnest endeavor on the part of its membership, this organization bids fair to become a strong factor in the building of the city.

An announcement of the various standing committees will shortly be made, and, while the members and officers are already pretty well "in harness," this will serve to logically distribute the work to the best possible advantage.

The president, Mr. Evans, is in correspondence with a highly-commended expert "City Builder" and interesting developments may be expected soon, from this or other sources in regard to the securing of a permanent general manager for the club.

It may be interesting to note the membership which composed the club up to several days ago, when the last returns were made. It is as follows, numbering 166:

DRAINAGE ASSOCIATION.

Sixth Annual Convention to be Held at Charlotte This Week.

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 15.—There will be held at Charlotte November 18th and 19th the annual convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association. Since the organization of this association in 1909 and the passage of the general drainage act of the State, about 70 drainage districts have been started. Of these 41 have been completed, representing an area of 417,900 acres of swamp land. About 60,000 acres are now being drained and 91,000 acres petitioned for, covering 23 counties of the coastal plain region. Drainage districts have been organized in Piedmont and Western North Carolina in 16 counties representing a total area of 52,471 acres of overflowed land. From data which has been collected it appears that the drainage of these lands has enormously increased their agricultural value, and the money value of these lands has increased from $10 to $150 per acre, with an estimated average value of $65. This will give an aggregate increase of land values for these areas, many of which before draining yielded no returns whatever, of $40,000,000; and increases the general healthfulness of these sections from 75 per cent to 100 per cent.

At this Convention there will be present, who will be in a position to give information of practical value to those who are interested in the formation of drainage districts.

Everyone interested in this form of conservation not only from the standpoint of increased land values but in the conservation of public health is most cordially invited to attend the sessions of the Convention, and will be considered as delegates.

There will be a discussion of the North Carolina Drainage law, and recommendations made as to any changes in it, which will help to promote the drainage work of the State.

President.

Under forest regulations in Colombia, rubber gatherers are required to give the trees a rest period in tapping them for gum. The size, number and location of the incisions are regulated by law. In the United States similar regulations are in force in the tapping of pines for turpentine on the Florida National forest.

There is a flourishing forest school in the Philippines, and 28 men were graduated with the class of 1913.

GERMAN DOCTORS TO STRIKE

Against Sickness and Accident Associations—Other Topics in Berlin. Brigandage in China and Some Outrages.

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 15.—More than 21,000 German physicians from small town and country districts, have decided to follow the example of their professional brethren in Great Britain and declare a "doctor's strike" against sickness and accident insurance associations established under the imperial insurance laws.

They complain against certain regulations under the laws, which they say militate against them, particularly one depriving the patient who is a member of an organization of any say in the choice of the physician by whom he desires to be treated. They object, too, to the wide discretion given to the organizations in the matter of contracts with physicians.

The decision to declare a strike against these regulations was reached at a meeting in Berlin of more than 800 delegates from all over Germany.

More than two-thirds of all the Germans are members of insurance organizations, which have their own contract physicians and the remaining medical field is over crowded. The number of medical students in Germany has risen from 6,300 in 1905, to 14,000, an increase utterly disproportionate to the increase of population. The result is, according to statistics, that half of all the physicians have incomes less than $1,500 yearly.

The doctors of Berlin, Dresden, Hamburg and other large cities did not join in the movement, owing, it was said, to the desperate competition among them.

Berlin Harbor.

Berlin is not usually looked upon as an important "seaport", for almost as much water passed daily through its water mains as through the little river Spree on which it is situated. The navigation interests of the German capital are so important, however, that after opening a large new harbor on the eastern side of the city only a few weeks ago at a cost of about $8,000,000, the municipality has just decided to build another one on the western side which will cost almost as much. It will cover, including warehouses and grounds used for harbor purposes, 75 acres. This step is taken in anticipation of a very large increase in canal and river shipping after the opening of the new canal at Stettin, now nearing completion.

In view of its improved shipping facilities and enlarged waterways Berlin looks forward to a more rapid development of its manufacturing and commercial interests.

Germany's Aviators.

Victor Stoeffler, the aviator, who by setting up a new world's record of 1,376 miles for a day's flight, proved that Germany may be considered a worthy rival of France in aviatorial accomplishment, may lose the $25,000 prize which it was supposed he had won by the feat. This was offered by the committee in charge of the National Aviation Subscription Fund for a record in excess of the hurricane flight of Brindejonc des Moulmais from Paris to Warsaw. Objection has been raised in the committee on the ground that Stoffler's flight was not made all in one direction like Brindejonc's, but that the last 435 miles was made by flying back and forth between Darmstadt and Muelhausen and Alsace. The aviators point out that the general conditions of the contest as adopted and published by the committee only require that 310 miles be covered by continuoues flight in a given direction, whereas Stoeffler's flight from Posen to Muelhausen alone covered 650 miles. They are already in arms against the committee for risking the lives of competitors by appointing the long distance competition for the month of October with its foggy nights and short days.

A decision has not been announced but aviators fear that the committee will not allow Stoeffler the grand prize, $25,000, for a flight surpassing Brindejonc's, but will award him only $15,000, the prize for the longest flight under the regular conditions.

Sailing Curiosity.

The "Princely Schaumburg-Lippe Sailing Fleet" has been disbanded. In spite of its high sounding title, this navy consisted only of small sailing boats which plied the inland lake called Steinhuder Meer. It was, however, an historical curiosity.

The Princes of Schaumburg-Lippe have for nearly 150 years owned a little water fortress on an artificial island in the lake and maintained a sailing fleet, at first to provide communications with this castle or refuge in case of an attack, but later for the more prosaic use of excursionists. The 18 seamen who manned the vessels were officials of the little State and wore its queer, antiquated uniform. The reigning prince finally decided that his navy was an expensive luxury and sold it to private persons. A restaurant on the island also belonging to the Prince and kept up by a retired official from the little court of Bueckeburg, went under the hammer as well.

New Issue of Money.

Lippe-Detmold is just having a new issue of money. The royal mint in Berlin has struck off an issue of thalers (three mark pieces worth about 75 cents) bearing a new likeness of Prince Leopold IV. The coins will not be placed in general circulation, but collectors and others desiring them must apply to the princely treasuries or princely savings banks.

Brigandage in China.

Peking, China, Nov. 15.—Brigandage in China has spread until some robber bands have assumed the dignity of small armies. They muster both foot and cavalry and are as large as two American regiments. No province is free from bandits. From Manchuria, where the Hunghutzes ply their trade, to Kwantung, infested by pirates, and from Klangsu to Turkestan, come reports of freebooters who defy the authorities.

There is no local police to cope with the outlaws and the army is not at present a dependable branch of the administration. China is never free from brigandage, but it is only at periods of transition, when the authority of the government is shaken by political disorders like the recent rebellion, that the bands attain such large proportions.

The American missionaries who fled from their homes in the interior of Fukien province are still at Foochow, unable to return because no protection can be assured them by the government. The American consulate at Foochow and the legation in Peking have been trying in vain for several months to get the Chinese government to take vigorous action against Hwang Liang, the outlaw who proclaimed himself 16th Emperor of the Ming Dynasty.

A consular report from Shensi says that province is practically administered by outlaws, who work solely in their own interest. The Governor adheres to the central government only because there is no interference from Peking and because it is good policy for him to describe himself as loyal. The Governor, or tutu, as he is called, was a poor and unscrupulous official, but now he has amassed a large fortune and a numerous harem.

The consul gives an account of how the commanding general likewise obtained wealth and authority. Being appointed commissioner for the suppression of opium in the province, says the report, he started on a tour with a body of troops. He took precaution always to send word ahead announcing his approach, a policy which, as is customary, brought forth munificent presents from the people. If the presents were ample no opium was discovered. He confiscated only the prepared drug, that being most easily portable and of the highest value, and brought it back to the important centers and sold it.

A member of the American consular service who came recently to Peking from Canton, says that piracy

GOTHAM'S MARRIAGE CENTRE

Cupid's Busiest Market Place—Blind Women's Club—Man's Life and Its Value—Millionaire Artist Cop.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Nov. 15.—The country's marriage centre, as well as Cupid's busiest market place, has been located in a prosaic basement office of New York's City Hall. Every country and every language was represented among the hundred and more daily who here hnd their romances bound, sealed and sanctioned during the year past.

The records show that a total of 38,999 licenses were issued to Manhattanites and Bronxites at the city hall in 1912, the total for the greater city being 56,493. The present year is showing a substantial increase. High and low, rich and poor, all appear to be alike as they enter Cupid's tribunal—becoming shy, diffident and self-conscious. And likewise, regardless of social station or pecuniary state, all are treated alike—going through the same formalities and paying the same $1 fee for their start on the road to happiness—cheap at the price, even though not guaranteed as to permanency.

A blind woman's club is one of Gotham's cosmopolitan "uniquities". Its meeting place is the "Lighthouse" on 59th street, and it is just as enlightened and progressive as any club in the country. It holds dances, recitals and other forms of entertainment. Nearly all the members are self-supporting and all are said to have cares and duties that leave them no time to worry about being blind. The corresponding secretary is one of the best stenographers in the city. Another member is an expert switchboard operator. The chairman of the committee on literature is a great reader, though totally blind. One who has been sightless for 30 years takes boarders and is her own cook and houseworker. Her more fortunate boarders marvel at her thoroughness.

New York harbors no less than 18 full fledged officers of Uncle Sam's navy, whose time is devoted to engineering courses at Columbia. All of these have been graduated from Annapolis at least five years and only one ranks lower than a lieutenancy. The sight of these young officers in the university's workshops, in overalls grimy and soiled, would dispel all thought of snobbery so far as

ANOTHER BIG WEEK At The BIJOU

THREE MORE SPECTACULAR WARNER FEATURE PICTURES FOR THE WEEK, BEGINNING TOMORROW

Last night brought to a close the biggest week that the popular Bijou has ever had. The most gigantic offerings ever put before Wilmington picture lovers were presented, and the popular playhouse has been crowded since the doors opened last Monday afternoon. The management announces that the coming week will bring offerings equally as great, including three more WARNER FEATURES, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, in addition to the regular bill every day.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 17th.

"The Glass Coffin"

A Warner Picture. A fantastic and romantic story of a beautiful princess, brought back to life after being closed up in a glass coffin for a thousand years. This magnificent Warner release opens with the finding of a large box by some workmen while excavating in a castle. The Count orders the box brought in, and in the presence of a large crowd, the casket is opened, revealing a beautiful girl, silent and motionless, as in death. The picture has a magnificent stage setting, and is produced by the Warner All Star aggregation of photoplay actors.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 18th.

"Love and War in Mexico"

This magnificent two-reel Lubin production will be of especial interest at this time, in view of the state of affairs in Mexico. It tells of a girl and boy who are playmates, then lovers. The young man joins the famous Mexican insurgents. The story is delightfully told in two long reels, and shows some spectacular Mexican scenery, as well as giving an insight into the methods of warfare in that country.

JAMES J. CORBETT
In "The Man From the Golden West"

5c NO MATTER HOW BIG THE SHOW, THE PRICE REMAINS —TINY— Buy a Book of Bijou Tickets —12 for 50c— 5c

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19th.

JAMES J. CORBETT, in

"The Man From the Golden West"

This is another Warner Photoplay, a gripping story in four parts, woven around the most gentlemanly and most popular of America's athletes, James J. Corbett, who, in this picture alone, has made fame as a motion picture actor. "Gentleman Jim" does some magnificent dramatic work, and the result is a feature of clean-cut, snappy action. Although this is Corbett's first appearance in motion pictures, he has achieved marked success on the American and English stage, in several different plays.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21st.

In the Clutches of the Ku-Klux-Klan

This picture was scheduled for the Bijou last Friday, but allowance was not made for unprecedented demand to see this famous feature of the Warner people. Consequently, when several other theatres demanded that they be allowed to show it for two days, it was delayed in reaching Wilmington. However, it will positively be presented next Friday. This is a true story of the exciting times when the Night Riders ruled the South, featuring the popular Warner Star, Miss Gene Gauntier, who plays the leading part in the story. It is an accurate historical production of the last exciting days of that organization, and should be witnessed by "S. R. O." crowds.

THEATRICAL

Thursday—Matinee and Night, "Kindling."
Saturday—Matinee and Night, "The Shepherd of the Hills."

With this really brilliant outlay of dramatic attractions the Academy of Music will be muchly to the front and greatly in the favor of Wilmington theatregoers this week. These are two of the very best dramatic attractions on the road and the Academy management deems itself indeed fortunate that it has been able to arrange for a matinee for each attraction.

Not only will "Kindling" be of importance by reason of the play itself, but because it will present to the people of this city one of Broadway's prime favorites, Miss Anna Day, in the leading role. The attraction will be offered for matinee and night on Thursday and seats will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Tuesday morning for both performances.

Saturday the well known play, "The Shepherd of the Hills" will be offered for matinee and night, and seats for the evening performance will go on sale at Bunting's Friday morning. There will be no reserve seats for the matinee, as it will be a bargain event when prices will be but 25 and 50 cents.

A number of notable attractions are to follow these two, and Manager Comes, of the Academy, has also booked the stupendous moving pictures of "Quo Vadis," for early presentation.

The Coming of "Kindling."

The advance agent ahead of Wee and Lambert's attraction, "Kindling," arrived in the city yesterday and spent most of the day with Manager Comes, of the Academy, arranging the reception of his show here on the 20th of this month, matinee and night. In presenting "Kindling" to the audiences of this State, Messrs. Wee and Lambert feel that they will be accorded the approval of well-pleased people who can appreciate good shows and clever acting. And in this the managers are right. In the past the South has seen but few of their attractions and this year it is a pleasure to announce that two of their shows will appear here this season. The one on November 20th and Seven Hours in New York, a bright musical comedy, during December. These managers in depending on the worth of their attractions to draw the business, have struck the right idea and as the people have a penchant for remembering the names of producers, it will mean good business for their shows in the future. The agent is an old dramatic man himself and tells an interesting story of the plot of "Kindling," how it got its name and what it means. In the first place "Kindling" means children having been derived from the Irish word Kinder. The one trouble with the show since it struck the South has been that the people did not understand the name of the show and failed to appreciate its significance. The story is an interesting one, humanely written and one that grips the audience from first to last of the three unbroken acts. Mother love has always been a great drawing card both in literature and on the stage, but in this play the author goes further back and puts in to the mind of a woman of the slums the idea that her unborn child deserves to enter this world in a better place, and without trying to understand the psychology of the situation, or making any pretense that she is paying her debt to prosperity, she takes the only means at hand to effect her purpose. The story was a fascinating one, and the play cannot fail to be likewise.

Reports received about the cast say that it is remarkably well balanced and that in this play Miss Anna Day has struck the real show of her career. The part was made famous by Margaret Illington and in the hands of Miss Day it is losing nothing of its power.

Seats for both performances will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Tuesday morning.

"The Shepherd of the Hills."

Harold Bell Wright's most popular novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," of which a million copies have been sold, has been made into a play by its author with the assistance of Elsbery W. Reynolds. The first production of this play in this city will take place at the Academy next Saturday, matinee and night.

The play is practically a true narrative of life among the humble dwellers of the Ozarks. It touches all the emotions, and its influence is wholesome and helpful, notwithstanding several rough characters that figure more or less prominently. The shepherd of the story is a cultured and rough stranger who comes into the hills, glad to escape from the vanities and conventionalities to which he has been accustomed. There is a flock needing a shepherd, and he thankfully accepts the lowly occupation of a sheep tender, but soon becomes shepherd of a human flock, the big-hearted mountaineers, their families, and all who need a friend and adviser. Among his most devoted followers are Old Matt and Young Matt, the giants of the hills; Sammy Lane, glorious in the beauty of young womanhood, and Poor Pete, a deranged lad who understands the voices of nature and sees what others cannot see. There is a mystery of the hills that often terrifies, but at last the solution is brought about by Pete and the shepherd, and it is the latter who is most deeply afflicted and concerned. It is hardly necessary to add that a pretty romance is woven into the humor, pathos and tragedy, for the play throughout is one of human interest with a conclusion that is thoroughly satisfactory to Young Matt, and, of course, to the auditors.

Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty, the producers, have given the play a superb scenic mounting and a cast that has been carefully selected for its fitness to each type.

Seats for Saturday night will go on sale at Bunting's Friday morning. No reserved seats for the matinee.

"Quo Vadis" on the Way.

"Quo Vadis," the superb photo drama reproduction of Henry Sienkiewicz's world famous novel, comes to the academy Nov. 28th and 29th, next, and it looks as though Mr. George Kleine's remarkable production will establish a wonderful record.

Aside from the many spectacular features there is an undeniable fascination about the story of Vinitius' passion for the sweet Lygia and the adage that the "course of true love never runs smooth," etc. is proven as far back as A. D. 66 and 68, by this very picture romance. It is human and human nature is the same today as it was in the days of Nero and all the other Caesars and Roman Emperors. And that is what the public likes whether it is novels, dramas, paintings or photo dramas.

There has been much wonderment at the magnitude and beauty of some of the scenes, notably the interior and garden scenes.

But the locale is Italy where landscape beauty is still a world sight. The Gines Company, of Italy, is composed of many of the wealthiest men of Rome, and the Bank of Italy is also said to be largely interested in the company. Many of the wealthy nobility are stockholders and when these pictures were being made the stockholders gave special permission for the use of their gardens and palaces. By this means many of the gorgeous scenes were produced with comparative ease, whereas, to have built the grounds and palaces specially it would have taken several million dollars and rendered it a business impossibility. Special permission had to be obtained from the Royal Cabinet for the use of some of the buildings and assurance had to be given that none of the historic arabesques and marbles would be disfigured. Even with all the advantages at the disposal of the Cines Company it is a wonderful achievement which could hardly be duplicated anywhere else than in "Eternal Rome." "Quo Vadis" furnishes amusement, instruction and inspiration and fully merits the great success it has achieved.

RAILROADS AND PROSPERITY.

(Editorial from the Chicago (Ill.) Evening Post, October 22nd.)

The Massachusetts Public Service Commission has approved the proposal of the New Haven Railway to issue 6 per cent. bonds, convertible into stock, to fund its floating debt and to provide for further improvements.

All of which sounds extremely technical and uninteresting to the average member of the great American public.

Yet, for all that, it has a direct and simple significance easily comprehended by all of us when it is explained in the light of the accompanying statements of the commission.

The commission took the view that neither the road nor the company merited further punishment for the long era of mismanagement and overextension that is known as the "Mollen Era." It seemed to believe that no matter what had passed, the road had taken a fresh start toward giving good service and economic management, and the public interest demanded that it should be helped in every reasonable way.

Something like this must soon enter into the whole situation as it effects the railroads of this country.

The period during which, through our own attitude, we encouraged railroad domination of our government is ended. Wise railroad men have been admitting this for years. They have been urging upon the country that the time for governmental action in a purely negative and prohibitive way has passed. They have pointed out that we cannot fairly assume the responsibilities of restricting railroad activity unless we also assume the responsibilities of giving it legitimate encouragement.

Enlightened self-interest is going to bring the country to this point of view. Already, we believe, there are signs of an uneasy public consciousness that our railroad job is but half done. We have "made the railroads behave," if you please, but we have not gone on and given them just ways and means for "behaving."

We have put largely increased burdens upon the roads. It costs a great deal to put into effect safety laws, liability laws, headlight laws, and full-crew laws. It costs a great deal merely to carry out the new systems of bookkeeping demanded by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. It costs as much, perhaps, to comply with the varying regulative requirements of the different States.

Furthermore, while protecting the shipper by limiting increase of railroad rates, we have not had a corresponding responsibility toward seeing that the roads are protected on the other end of the scale. We have devised no machinery by which the frequent demands for wage increases on the part of employes shall be judged in their proper economic relation to the just cost of operating a road.

The question has a seriousness that is out of proportion to the public lack of interest in it at present. Statistics show that the gross profits of the railroads are increasing, but that their net profits are falling off at a far greater rate. This means that the prosperity of the carriers is threatened. Whica means, in its turn, as the Massachusetts commission appears to realize, that the general prosperity is threatened. For our own sake we must go on and finish in a constructive way the job which we began in a purely restrictive way.

USELESS CHRISTMAS GIVING

Campaign of 1913 Inaugurated by the "Spugs," With Address by Mrs. August Belmont — Insincerity, Compulsion and Waste.

New York, Nov. 15.—A country-wide appeal for the abolition of the useless Christmas gift and a plea for intelligent and thoughtful giving, instead, were voiced Tuesday night by Mrs. August Belmont, president of the "Spugs," at the opening meeting of the 1915 campaign to be waged by that organization against insincerity, compulsion and waste, in Christmas giving.

At this meeting the membership rolls of the "Spugs"—the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving—were thrown open to all residents of the United States who might want to enroll against the foolish Christmas gift. Having grown from a handful to more than 5,000 within a few weeks, during the last Christmas season, the "Spugs" have outlined for this year a national campaign, and hope to establish societies in all cities and towns throughout the country.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman presided at tonight's meeting. District Attorney Whitman, newly enrolled as a member, and Francis Crowinshield delivered addresses. Mrs. Belmont was the orator of the evening. The original purpose of the society, she said, was to prevent compulsory giving by girls in stores and factories to their employers, the custom of collective giving which the girls felt they could not afford, but which they could not avoid without embarrassment and possible loss of their positions. This was one of the chief objects of the society she added, but not the only one. Another prime attainment sought, she said, was a general cultivation, by all classes of givers, of more thoughtfulness and expression of personality in making Christmas gifts.

"We do not disapprove of collective giving when it is done on the spur of the moment," she said, "or for some particular cause, because then it means that you have collected a sense of human fellowship of which the money collected is but an expression. We do approve of it when it is for the man lower down instead of for the man higher up.

"Some persons think that we oppose giving. Far from it; we do not oppose giving, but we advocate intelligent giving—giving that is done with the Christmas spirit of good will as distinguished from giving that is compulsory, from fear or with the hope of obtaining reward, whether that reward be the favor of the man higher up or advancement. The world at large should put more of the Christmas spirit into giving. Christmas should be a time for every person to do his or her share.

"Some folks say to us, 'Of course, you want to promote useful giving.' The word useful has many changes of meaning. Usually, when one thinks of a useful present, it is a present decidedly middle class or commonplace. So we do not attempt to promote useful giving in the commonly accepted definition of that word. The thing we are really out to do is to abolish something. We feel that when we have done that there will follow good sense in giving, and that everybody will be profited thereby.

"We propose to decrease the cost of the gift and increase the good will; to make the heart of Father Christmas rejoice by little acts of kindness, unselfishness, by putting thought into the gift we send our dear ones. Give generously, but from your heart, with all your thought. Don't make a business of giving, make it an art. Don't waste what should be a season of good will freely given."

along the rivers and canals is more extensive than ever before. The authorities are endeavoring to terminate it by giving the chiefs government offices and incorporating the ordinary pirates and brigands in the navy and army. It is evident that this time-honored practice has not passed away with the Manchu dynasty.

The French legation has received news of the burning of a Roman Catholic mission church during the plundering and burning of a town in southern Honan, not far from Tsaoyang, where the American and Norwegian missionaries were made prisoners in September. The government has sent troops in large numbers to fight against "White Wolf", the brigand chief, who is terrorizing that section of the country, but according to the report of another American consul, the soldiers, though sufficiently numerous, are not making serious efforts. They have been trying, ostensibly, for several months to round up the brigands, yet walled towns are still being besieged, captured and looted by them.

A missionary in a Honan city describes how a band, 2,000 strong, impressed villagers to carry fuel up to the gate of a town barred against them, in order to burn down the gate so that they might enter and loot the place. The villagers were literally between two fires, for when they approached the gate they were shot at from the walls by the soldiers garrisoning the town, and if they refused to advance the brigands laid them low.

Within hearing of the walls of Peking village blunderbusses can be heard nightly. By firing at intervals their old-time guns, sometimes so large that two or more men are required to carry them, the villagers try to scare off the robbers. This Summer a village within a few minutes walk of a group of temples occupied by some American and British families in the Western Hills outside Peking, was plundered by a band of mounted men, and one or two villagers were shot. Much more valuable loot and even ransom money might have been obtained by an attack on the temples, but though the guns were heard nightly by the foreign women and children, they spent their Summer in the hills with little fear of attack. Their confidence was due to the fact that the people, including brigands, of this province have a great respect for the ability of the foreigner to shoot.

The temples which the foreigners occupy in the Summer were headquarters of the Boxers in 1900, and several encounters with the Boxers, signally disastrous for the latter, took place in the neighborhood. Furthermore, a detachment of troops from one or more of the Legation Guards generally goes into camp in one of this group of temples. Generally each of the American companies take a month out there at different times during the Summer.

GATHERED THOUGHTS.

(By T. W. Chambliss.)

There are no seedless sins.
There is no discord in love.
Self-sacrifice is a civic necessity.
No man hits higher than he aims.
Purse strings go around the heart.
Sham is the beginning of shame.
Meditation is the breathing of the soul.
The end of life is always determined by its aim.
Co-operation is always much better than criticism.
Men always begin to differ when they begin to think.
True learning is intensive rather than extensive.
He is a brave man who dares to think new thoughts aloud.
To admit one's imperfection is to move toward perfection.
He who fails to build up, sins as truly as he who tears down.
There is no hopeless case—not even your case.
Resolutions without results are only blank cartridges.
Excessive regret is like unto the placing of the headlight on the caboose.
The pleasures of fashion have never yet succeeded in fashioning true pleasure.
What the average man needs is not more talent, but more purpose with those he already has.
Petulance merely prolongs the pain that patience would relieve.
If you took as much pains to heal your faults as you take to hide them, they would soon be ended.
He who knows enough to mind his own business may be safely trusted to mind another man's business.
If we demand perfection of our friends we should certainly remember that we must pay for it in the same currency.
Thought is the bud—deeds are the ripened fruit.
Family jars are very poor things in which to preserve family happiness.
Some people idealize their real—the truly noble endeavor to realize their ideal.

Turn the Baby's Tears to Laughter

A Gentle Baby Laxative Will Quickly Relieve the Usual Cause of the Trouble.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. John Kirch, Jr., 1527 Abstract Ave., Pittsburg, Pa. She has been giving it successfully to little Walter, whose picture we present at three months, when he weighed 14 1-2 pounds. He is a healthy, laughing youngster today and Mrs. Kirch gladly gives Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin credit. It saves many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly when the first symptoms of illness are noticed it prevents a serious ailment.

WALTER J. KIRCH.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

This year's corn crop promises to be the most valuable this or any other nation ever has produced, although the Department of Agriculture's preliminary estimate of production, issued Monday, indicates it will be more than half a billion bushels less in size than the record crop of last year, and the smallest since 1903.

The long-lived controversy between railroads of the East and their conductors and trainmen over the latter's demands for more pay ended Monday. The employees are granted an increase in wages averaging 7 per cent. and totalling $6,000,000 annually—about one-half of what they wanted from October 1st, last, effective for one year. One hundred thousand men will share in the increase.

Suffragists made another demonstration last Sunday at the service at St Paul's. At intervals they kept singing: "God Save Annie Kenney and Sylvia Pankhurst, who are being persecuted for conscience sake." Monday it was announced Miss Emerson, the American suffragette, was suffering congestion of the brain from injuries received in the Bow street demonstration, November 5th.

The United States Good Roads Association, of which Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, is president, met for its annual convention in St. Louis Monday. Delegates from all over the country, among them a number of Governor, Congressmen and other public officials, were in attendance. Governor Major, of Missouri, welcomed the visitors. The sessions continued through the entire week.

Speeches urging a movement for nation-wide prohibition and sounding a note of co-operation in fighting the liquor forces, marked the enthusiastic opening at Columbus, Ohio, Monday night, of the 15th annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America. No rest until nation-wide prohibition has been attained was the theme of an address of Bishop Luther B. Wilson, of New York, president of the League.

Crippling transportation facilities and prostrating wire communication over a wide area, an extraordinary snow, sleet and wind storm visited a large portion of Ohio, Maryland, Western and Northern Pennsylvania Sunday and Monday, last. During the day 10 inches of snow fell, 4 inches more than has been recorded during any November since 1886. The barometer registered 29.06, or about one inch below normal, and this incident of the storm is viewed as remarkable by the Pittsburgh officials of the Weather Bureau. Throughout the day a northwest gale blew 40 miles an hour, while the temperature dropped from 48 degrees to 22 degrees in less than 15 hours.

A NO-TYPHOID COUNTY.

The county of Yakima, Washington, is a place where typhoid fever is not. So far as that disease is concerned, it is a model community. This Utopian state of affairs was brought about by the special efforts of its citizens and of the United States Public Health Service. It was accomplished by strict adherence to the most approved methods of removing and disposing of all sources of infection, such as privy filth and sewage of all kinds, also by the general prevention of flies, screening and effective protection of all water and milk supplies. Nothing was left undone that experience could suggest or that money could accomplish.

So successful has the experiment in that county proved that the Public Health Service has in contemplation the establishment of more model communities of this kind. The plan is to have one in the Middle West, one in New England, one in the Middle Atlantic States, one in the Southwest, one in the South, and so on.

North Carolina, it is hoped, will be selected as the Southern State in which the model no-typhoid community is to be established. As soon as the plans are perfected for the South, the various counties in the State that express an interest will be notified and opportunity given them to bid for the location. The place offering the most substantial evidences of willingness to co-operate will win the chance to be given the no-typhoid model county of the South. In that county it were better indeed for the typhoid germ that he had never been born, and, as a matter of fact, the chances of his perpetuating his species will be very, very slim.

The best teaching is by example, and here will be a county to show other counties what can be done to prevent the waste by typhoid fever of the time, the strength and the lives of wealth-producing and world-bettering citizen.

JOSHUA, THE NEW LEADER.

(The Story.)

The generation of the Exodus was dead, but the incalculable gains of its travail in the wilderness were transmitted to the new generation, which stood on the threshold of Canaan. They received as a legacy an ethical code, a ritual, a theocractic government, and the story of the wonders of God did in the wilderness. But the time when Israel was to be chiefly receptive was passed. With the spoils of 20 generations, the nation was on the point of projecting itself into a new arena. "Conquest!" was the keynote now.

In this emergent situation the call was for a great, determined, tactful, inspirational leader. Joshua was Jehovah's savior for his people. Good blood coursed his veins. He had drunk the bitter cup of servitude. He saw the plagues and the miracles of the Exodus. He became "Moses' minister." He alone went part way up Sinai with Israel's mediator, and was first to greet him as he descended the mount. He learned the art of war. He had already conquered the whole territory east of the Jordan, and installed the two tribes and the half tribe in their possessions. Thus it was no novice who was stepping to the fore in this crisis hour. With quiet dignity and consciousness of his personal resources, Joshua took up the reins of government as the natural successor of Moses.

His very first move proves him experienced commander. He seeks a full quota of troops, and makes an appeal for fraternal assistance to the two tribes and the half tribe, asking them to redeem their pledge to help the other tribes conquer the remaining territory. Next he turns his attention to the commissariat. He sends officers through the camp with orders to "prepare victuals." Next he sends the spies to Jericho, which he recognizes as the Gibraltar of Canaan.

The divine address to the new leader has been aptly called an enlivening exhortation. The formal announcement of Moses' death is suggestive that a new type of leader is required. Jehovah orders the crossing of the Jordan and the invasion of Canaan. Comforting assurances of success are mingled with the general orders. The boundaries of the territory to be conquered are defined. The divine constancy to Moses is cited as a pledge of similar constancy to Joshua. Only he is to be strong and courageous. These are not vague terms. It is not strength and firmness in general Joshua is to have, but strength in the hands and firmness in the knees. He is to be strong to grasp and firm-kneed to withstand hostile assault. And the source of strength is found in the Scriptures. It is to be Joshua's meditation day and night. It being the man of his counsel, he will have good success. He is not to be dismayed, for the constancy of the Diviine Presence is assured.

The Teacher's Lantern.

A new book of the Bible opens: Joshua, so called, not on account of authorship, but because of the hero, who stands against the narrative like a boldly-cut cameo against its background.

It is possible the book has suffered to some extent by its rather arbitrary exclusion from the first division of Scripture—Pentateuch—of which some believe it was originally a part.

The contents are for the most part a stirring narrative of the conquest and division of Canaan, and an extremely accurate description of the land.

Yet the book is probably not the continuous composition of one writer so much as a collection of historical notices, edited with admirable skill. The framework and interpolations, however, are not completely covered by the editor.

Moses, the Lord's servant, was dead. There was a great gap. By whom could a vacancy like that be filled? So today, in National and world movements, leaders are falling. If one great personality happens not to come to the fore, there must be augmented diligence among the survivors.

The assurance of the Divine Presence was to be no premium on inactivity. The Lord's command is "Go over Jordan!" His people press the soles of their feet upon the soil of the land of promise before God will give it to them. If we do our part, God is faithful to bring us also to the heavenly Canaan.

In the struggle for the maintenance of religion, all factions should, if possible, be enlisted and fused. Protestants, Catholics, Jews, theists generally, should come together in the conflict with materialism and atheism.

Canaan (Rest) was a beautiful type of heaven, having almost innumerable points of likeness. Heaven is the antitype, that true and lasting rest, which remains for the people of God.

The Bible for a long while alone preserved the record of the Hittites among the nations, and it was supposed by hostile criticism to be in error in exaggerating the importance of what was judged to be a small tribe. Recent explorations and discoveries confirm the Bible, and show the Hittites to be a powerful nation, the dominant one of Syria, exercising an influence even upon Egypt and the East.

To afford rest is a very beautiful and significant phrase. It means to cause to rest in a secure dwelling place, after the long and restless wandering through the wilderness.

In dangerous duties and circumstances there is no better comfort than when one has a call to the position from God.

The first revelation of God after the death of Moses installs Joshua formally in his office, gives him double commission; to lead the people into the promised land, as to distribute this among them; renews the assurance of divine aid, and admonishes to steadfast filedity toward God's law and unperturbable confidence in him. Could anything be more comprehensive or apt?

Young People's Devotional Service. November 23, 1913. Psalm 100:1-5
Discontent or Praise; Which is Your Life?
(Thanksgiving Meeting.)

It is said of Peter and his denial that "When he thought thereon, he wept." But reflection is not only the cause of repentance, it is the cause of praise. Thinking of the goodness and mercy of God opens one's lips in thanksgiving. It is reflection that strikes the keynote. Meditating on the Lord's goodness and the staying quality of His mercy and truth is what leads to seeking his gates with thanksgiving and His courts with praise. Mere periodic and verbal thanksgiving is a clanging cymbal.

these individuals are concerned. Nine of them are taking mechanical engineering; seven are perfecting themselves in electrical engineering; and the two others are specializing in wireless work. It is the plan of the government to so train a class of 20 men every year in current engineering achievement and distribute that number annually to stations where such information will be most advantageous. Thus the navy will gain largely in efficiency and keep abreast of the times in its mechanical departments.

That in the cold, calculating judgment of New York's Supreme Court one's life is by no means his most precious possession may be assumed in view of three verdicts rendered one day recently. A brakeman who lost an arm in the discharge of his duty recovered $20,000 from the railroad for which he worked. For negligently running his motor truck over a lad, fracturing a leg which had to be amputated, an expressman must pay to the boy $10,000 as damages and to the father $1,000 for loss of his services. On the other hand, the widow of Fire Captain Hagan is awarded only $7,000 for the loss of her gallant husband who, while fighting a fire, fell through an unprotected skylight to his death.

Gotham's "millionaire cop", Patrolman Cahill, coyly and no doubt correctly disclaims the "millionaire" soubriquet, and no less modestly pleads guilty to the possession of natural artistic talent that would do credit to one who had devoted a lifetime to the study of art. Though his father was an artist of note and his sister's paintings grace many homes of culture and wealth and always find a ready sale, Cahill has never had instruction and has indulged his painting fancy only during the past two or three years, having previously made etchings and carved in wood as a pastime. Artists who know the value of paintings say Cahill has rare talent and have urged him to exhibit some of his work, but so far he has not done so. He works rapidly, once a subject is decided upon; has a wonderful memory and has reproduced on canvas a number of fine landscapes when far distant from his subjects.

That New York is within measurable distance of utter horselessness is claimed by many, and seemingly not wholly without reason. A prediction that such a condition will be brought about within 20 years is partly based upon tests taken during the busiest morning and afternoon hours at the busiest points on five of Gotham's busiest thoroughfares. These tests show that against a total of 3,469 motor-driven vehicles there passed only 1,835 that were horse-pulled. That on Fifth avenue the horse vehicles were only one in five, while on the four other avenues they were nearly half, warrants the deduction that probably three-fourths of all the equine equipages were trucks and delivery wagons, the replacing of which by autos is now foreshadowed by the recently inaugurated boom in the auto truck business. One large local firm alone has lately disposed of all its horses and installed 110 motor driven delivery wagons.

That $80,000 was raised by American bird lovers to fight for their feathered friends this year through the National Association of Audubon Societies, was announced in this city a few days ago, following the annual meeting of this organization. Increases of 44 per cent in sustaining memberships, 26 per cent in life memberships and fully 36 per cent in gross income within one year and the doubling of its working forces and income since 1910, are reported at the headquarters of the Audubon workers as evidences that the bird protective movement is beginning to receive the support of men, women and children in every section of the country. If the interest of the public increases proportionately in the future, it is calculated that at the end of the coming decade, three quarters of a million dollars will be spent annually for the benefit of the Nation's bird life through an organization of ten times the fighting strength of the present National Audubon army of wardens, field agents and educators.

That at least 90 cents in every dollar contributed by sympathizers with the wild birds was directly spent in pleading their cause before Congress, 40 legislatures and public officials, or in guarding and maintaing scores of breeding refuges, is shown by the financial records of the parent Audubon association, the administrative expenses of which have been kept down to less than 10 per cent of its income. In opposing the monied millinery interests to procure protection for their feathered prey by the legislators at Washington and a score of State capitols, many thousands of dollars were expended in written and spoken appeals to the people, whose representatives have, as a result of their consequent demand, enacted laws that are regarded as safeguarding every form of American bird life more extensively than ever before in history. Today Uncle Sam has become the leader of all the nations of the world in the suppression of bird butchery for the feather traffic and the preservation of his game birds by the new Federal laws, the Audubon workers declare.

Two million birds are reported to have found a safe refuge this year on the Audubon reservations and guarded colonies on both coasts and in inland sections, as fell as some 10,000 egrets over which 16 armed agents have watched in protected feeding grounds throughout the Southern States. Fifty-two thousands boys and girls have been enrolled as junior members of the National Association of Audubon Societies since last year and thousands of dollars have been spent in supplying the coming generation of the whole country, through the schools, with educational matter that must make bird protectors of every scholar in future years. The demands of the public for expert information on the economic value of bird life to agricultural prosperity as well as for general ornithological data, has caused the educational activities of the association to be doubled during the year.

"In addition to the lines of work in which we are already engaged, there are many new fields of opportunity opening before us for the coming year," said T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon Societies, at its headquarters, 1974 Broadway. "The passage of the splendid Federal bird protective laws in the past year and the strengthening of State laws do not mean that our troubles are at an end. These measures will doubtless be assailed in the courts, and never has there been a time when the influence of wise and earnest educational endeavor on behalf of the birds was more needed than at present."

The arrival of 196 carloads of live poultry in New York last week established a record and indicates an immense stock of poultry throughout the United States, it is declared here. The shipments came from almost every State in the Union, particularly from the Middle West. An estimate of the total receipts of live poultry for 1913 to date is 6,000 car loads, making New York City's poultry bill thus far this year over $16,000,000.

FARMING AT PINEHURST.

What Some of the Northern Agriculturists Are Doing.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 15.—Sparring against time in the planting of cover crops on his big plantation near at hand, Roger A. Derby, of Boston, Harvard man of leisure, has rigged a big traction engine with headlights taken from his automobile, and is working both day and night shifts. Typical this is of the energy and resourcefulness of the Northern men of means who are developing the hitherto unrecognized agricultural possibilities of the immediate section.

Launched little more than a year ago, the movement has already assumed huge proportions, and is, apparently, but at its beginning. Frederick T. Gates, of financial fame, was among the first in the field and some 20,000 acres was his stunt. Last Summer over 600 acres, cleared during the Winter, were under cultivation, and "Hoffman" is now a community in itself; poking its nose through the sand "in a night."

At Samarcand, R. W. Pumpelly, once a mining engineer, has a country gentleman's estate of over 2,000 acres, and just beyond Jackson Springs is Mr. Derby's plantation of equal size.

Hard by Aberdeen Ralph W. Page, son of Ambassador Page, has a 2,000 acre farm and not far away, his uncle, Henry A. Page, is working a similar tract. And there are only the show places, Marston, Maurice, Cotter and others—Northern men—are also in the game.

Men who do things are leading capital for experience in the reclamation of waste land; testing out both theory and practice on the broad and comprehensive lines of modern methods. Cotton raising has thus early attracted National prominence through the superiority of the product; corn is forging ahead into the very front ranks; rye and oats are being successfully grown; peaches, pears, plums, grapes, strawberries and dewberries have all passed the experimental stage. Vegetables offer opportunities and some go as far as to assert that Moore county could equal Aroostock county, Me., in potatoes under proper treatment. Cattle, horses and hog raising are coming as a natural consequence, and prosperous homes are beautifying the landscape, "health, wealth and happiness" are the ideals which beckon at this the beginning of the transformation of the section which has hitherto figured as the "Sand Hill Desert."

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David H. Reeder, Chicago, Illinois.

Play and Health:—It has been given out by the most famous medical college in this country, that much of appendicitis, with which we so frequently come in contact is the direct result of a downcast mental condition. Despondency, fear, worry, anger, a grouch so to speak, is the immediate or predisposing cause.

Now, the great Johns Hopkins Medical University does not give out such information as this until it has made thorough and exhaustive investigation. It must know whereof it speaks. There are always people who will promptly declare their disbelief in such statements and cite as proof some laughing young girl or boy who come near dying before the appendix was removed.

Looked at from all sides, however, that proves nothing. A laughing face may hide a grieving heart. I have heard many people say that they laugh the loudest when they feel the most like crying. "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine," is one of the Biblical proverbs which has been proved true as many times as it has been tried. I think there are few things in this world that cause more real suffering than worry and fear. Eliminate those two mental conditions and you will stop the revenue of half the doctors.

There are many thousands of grouchy old sobersides who go to church regularly and think they are pious, because they are solemn, when as a matter of fact they would serve God more truly if they would dance the tango for a couple of hours at least three times a week. Not that I would have them stop going to church, not by any manner of means, but get a merry heart. Let a laugh break right out loud, even if it cracks the skin on that sour old face. A hearty laugh that comes from a merry heart is more quickly contagious than the measles. Some say that the measles eliminates a lot of diseased matter from the system. Well, if you suppress the measles you bottle up in the system a lot of diseased matter that ought to be eliminated, but a person is not benefitted by the measles and should avoid and prevent the disease always.

Speaking about dancing the tango. You can hold up your hands in holy horror if you will, but I approve of it. It's not only a beautiful and stately dance, but it exercises nearly every muscle in the body and does it with the beautiful rythm of inspiring and mirth-provoking exhiliarating music. I have five sons and a grandson and I want every one of them to dance the tango. There isn't a step in it that I cannot take and if all the grandads in the country would like to keep young like I do, then let them limber up with something in the form of an all-round exercise that employs the play impulse.

One physical culturist has told us that a woman can get no better all-round physical exercise than to wash, iron, sweep and wipe the dust off the pictures on the wall. Personally I never could make play or get any mirth-provoking pleasure out of that kind of exercise and I don't believe there is a human being living that can get more satisfaction out of every-day duties than I can. After the duties are done, however, I want to play, and after play I want to rest, and I do rest. Make the best and most of everything, especially of yourself. There's good in everything, hunt for it, find it, rejoice and be glad, express your gladness with music and dancing, not only smile but laugh.

Club Notes.

I will gladly answer all inquiries for information on health subjects from readers of this publication if same are addressed to Home Health Club, 5039 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago. Send full name and address with four cents postage.

Goitre:—I have had a great many inquiries of late about goitres. During the score of years that I have conducted the Home Health Club, many people have told me of various cures. Some have tried to sell to me their secret formula, while others exhibit the true Home Health Club spirit and want to help others as they have been helped. This department is conducted for the benefit of the readers of this paper and I am always glad to have you write me about your sickness and suffering and I will do my best to suggest a safe and effective home method of cure. Recently I have suggested a simple and safe method of home treatment for goitre. I do not wish to publish it at large until it has proven successful, so I will give the directions privately and without charge in a personal letter to a limited number who will agree to make a written report of their progress, success or failure, writing to me at least every two weeks for two months, by which time a satisfactory result should be apparent.

Common sense as well as scientific knowledge will prove to any one that no harm is likely to result from the method of treatment and most of you have everything at hand in your own home, that is needed to carry out the treatment.

Dear Doctor: I have been bothered with sour stomach or heartburn for 18 years. My food does not seem to leave the stomach from one meal to another, and becomes sour and ferments, causing bloating of gas, and a dull aching pain all the time. My appetite is good, but nearly everything I eat disagrees with me. I am tired all the time, have sharp pains all through my body, stiff joints, rheumatism, headache over the eyes, and in the back of neck, and pains across my back and hip. I can hardly straighten up at times when I bend over. I have always worked on a farm and worked hard, and have always been a hearty eater and am now. Everything tastes good, but there are lots of things I do not eat. I drink no tea or coffee, do not use tobacco in any form, and never have. My stomach seems worse at night, cannot sleep, and lie awake from one to four hours every night, get up in the morning as tired as when I went to bed. My bowels will not move except when I take a physic. If you can help me, you will bestow the greatest blessing that one person can bestow upon another. M. L. J.

You should try two meals a day for a few weeks and let the stomach have a chance to dispose of food previously taken before eating more. Eat slowly and masticate every morsel of food until it is a liquid in the mouth.

When there are sour risings from the stomach swallow large quantities of saliva, also take a charcoal magnesia tablet after each meal. For radical cure of the pains in the back, and also an aid to the stomach you should have osteopathic treatment, and if this cannot be done, give the back, a thorough hot fomentation with hot bran poultice along the entire spine. Continue it for about forty minutes every other night, just before retiring, for a week or more, and you will feel like a new man.

Gets Right Twist On Rheumatism

Makes Short Work of Cleaning Out Your Entire System—Aches and Pains Go Fast.

In S. S. S. You Get a Twist on Rheumatism That Settles It.

Many a rheumatic sufferer has been to the drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and been handed something claimed to be "Just as good." Truly, to ask for bread and be given a stone is still in practice. If you are troubled with rheumatism in any form be sure to use S. S. S. and note its wonderful influence.

S. S. S. has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid accretions to disolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and ask for S. S. S.

You may depend upon it that the store that sells you what you ask for is a good place to trade. Write to the Swift Specific Co., 204 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their Book on Rheumatism.
